May Not Use Vote for Uniting Germany Schools Need Sprinklers, Brett Repeats

227-Year Statement Refuted See Underwriters, Chief Tells Board

Fire Chief James M. Brett today reiterated his appeal for installation of approved automatic sprinkler systems in Kingston city schools and described a recent reaction by the Board of Education to his proposal as "ill considered."

At a meeting January 8 one board member claimed such installation throughout the city school system would cost an estimated $227,000; that to get back this cost in insurance savings would require "227 years," while another indicated that solid brick buildings carry low insurance rates.

Chief Brett today categorically denied both these claims and offered "facts and figures" to unequivocally refute the statements of "both board members."

Quote Architects

George Schneider, chairman of the board's building committee, claimed the installation cost would reach an estimated $227,000, and Robert H. Herzog, president, pointed out that solid brick buildings carry low insurance rates. Herzog said, at the recent meeting, most architects feel it unnecessary to install sprinklers throughout an entire school and recommend installation only in certain spaces, such as the stage and boiler rooms.

"It was reported in public print that Schneider's statement on '227 years' elicited laughter among board members and a number of visitors," Chief Brett said.

Considers Parents

"I feel confident that the grief-stricken parents of children who perished in the Chicago parochial school holocaust early in December would fail to find humor in any proposals of automatic sprinkler systems in that city."

Investigation of insurance coverage of our school system reveals that Schneider's statement is "essentially correct," Chief Brett said, "but the same investigation discloses that our school buildings are insured for less than 25 per cent of their replacement value, based on minimum facilities' replacement costs."

"The policy of the Board of Education in insuring the buildings on a depreciated value rather than on a replacement cost basis, in effect, makes city residents co-insurers of their own property to the extent of assuming 75 per cent or more of the risk."

Cites Example

To clarify his contention, Chief Brett cited School No. 7 "because board members have assured me this is one of the buildings to be retained."

School No. 7 is now insured for $180,000, the chief reported. The school, Chief Brett said, quoting fire department records, is capable of accommodating 500 pupils. "The very lowest replacement cost to provide minimum elementary school facilities is $1,800 per pupil," the chief noted.

Based on such figures, in the event School No. 7 were destroyed by fire, the minimum replacement cost would be $900,000, he said, and if the same school were insured on this basis (Continued on Page 24, Col. 1)

Former Trustees of Rural School Areas Are Honored

Former trustees of the 25 school districts surrounding Kingston received public recognition for years of devoted service on behalf of the education of the youth of the area at a special testimonial luncheon at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday noon. A $500 scholarship to be awarded in the name of the trustees was announced at the luncheon.

The testimonial honoring the trustees for their contribution to the children of the school districts was sponsored jointly by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the three Kingston service clubs—Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis.

Preceding the ceremonies, club announcements were made by President Donald Cooper of Rotary, President George Svirsky

March 1 Is Likely Start of Gas Hike

By CHARLES DUMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Beginning March 1, the average New York motorist will have to pay about $10 a year more in state gasoline taxes.

The extra cost will be imposed by a two-cent increase in the tax, from four to six cents a gallon. The starting date was set Wednesday in a bill introduced in the Legislature at the request of Gov. Rockefeller. It provides also for a three-cent increase in the diesel fuel tax, now six cents a gallon, on the same day.

Passage Is Assured

The measure seems assured of passage. It has full backing of the

Permanent Plate System for Cars Asked of State

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The state's "Little Hoover" commission asked the Legislature today to set up a system of permanent license plates for motor vehicles registered in New York.

The commission also sponsored legislation to have motorists renew their registration and drivers' licenses on staggered dates throughout the year.

The measures were part of a five-bill package the commission filed as the first step in implementing its recommendations for sweeping revisions in the Motor Vehicles Bureau.

80 Proposals Made
The commission known formally as the Temporary State Commission on Coordination of State Activities, made nearly 80 proposals for changes.

The recommendations were listed in the group's annual report to the governor and Legislature. The report did not give a time schedule for the changeovers proposed.

10 Others Executed By Castro Rebel Chief Says Purge Will Go On

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fresh dispatches today told of the execution of 10 more men by order of revolutionary courts, boosting the reported toll to 195.

The rebel leader, Fidel Castro, said the executions will continue, regardless of world opinion about the summary justice accorded captive followers of ex-President Fulgencio Batista who are adjudged major war criminals.

Some Given Terms

"We have given orders to shoot every one of these murderers," Castro declared Wednesday night. Some convicted prisoners are getting prison terms. A few are being freed. A tribunal at Santiago Wednesday provisionally freed five—three civilians and two military men.

Criticism mounted abroad of the hurried military trials and firing squad deaths. But the rebel chief, asked by newsmen if the executions would be stopped, replied:

"No. To the contrary, we have given orders to shoot every one of these murderers. And if we have to battle world opinion to mete out justice, we are prepared to do it."

Leader Reported Ill

Castro had scheduled a news conference later in the evening but called it off with word that he was ill. The nature of his illness was not disclosed, but the strenuous life he has led during the past two weeks was probably telling on him.

Reports reaching Havana said 19 persons were put to death in Camaguey, 320 miles east of Havana, for political murders and tortures during the regime of ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Five more executions were reported from Manzanillo, in Oriente (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Husband of Slain Dutchess Woman Is Still Sought

DOVER PLAINS, N. Y. (AP) — A posse of state troopers and local police searched methodically through this rural area today for Stanley Webster, wanted in the shotgun slaying of his estranged wife.

Webster, 20, has been sought since early Wednesday when the woman, Mrs. Patricia Webster, 19, was slain as she was starting home from a tavern where she worked as a waitress.

State troopers kept watch through the night after a day of fruitless hunting, and this morning about 30 of them, plus 15 deputies and some local constables intensified the patrol of secluded spots.

Officials disclosed that Webster previously had threatened his wife with violence and last January was put under $1,000 peace bond not to molest her.

The cause of their estrangement was not disclosed. The couple has a two-year-old son. (Continued on Page 10, Col. 1)

792 Numbers Are Given Homes in Port Ewen Area

The house numbering program for Port Ewen is complete and 792 numbers were assigned, it was reported at the Esopus Town Board meeting Wednesday night in the Town Auditorium, Port Ewen.

Reuben Gullian, chairman of the project presented the report to the board and arrangements are in progress to post the assigned numbers on a bulletin board in the window of the town clerk's office.

House numbers will also appear on town tax bills next year.

The Port Ewen Businessmen's Association, which initiated the program, was responsible for the major portion of the work.

May or June for Bridge

Supervisor Roger W. Mabie read a letter received from Kurt G. Rauer, district engineer of the State Department of Public Works office in Poughkeepsie stating that work on the Eddyville Bridge is expected to be completed in May or June. Work on the bridge was suspended in early December due to unfavorable weather.

In place of a multiple dwelling inspector, the five fire chiefs in the town's fire districts were appointed by the board to serve as inspectors on a fee basis.

They are: Edward Mains, Port Ewen Fire Department; Harry Mains, Esopus Fire Company; Emil Wagner, Rifton Fire Company; Wallace Wood, St. Remy, and Frank Giles, Connelly Fire Company.

Making Water Study

Enforcement of recommendations will be by the town constables, Supervisor Mabie said. A town board committee working on the revision of the water district code is making a study to supplement the water supply of the town. It was reported at the meeting that the committee is contemplating a conference with engineers and water consultants to (Continued on Page 10, Col. 1)

Rules Made Known By State on Bypass

A Public Service Commission decision released today rules that the Route 209 bypass, west of the city is to cross the Catskill Mountain Branch of the New York Central at grade.

Announcement of the decision also revealed that the section of the bypass between Route 28 and the Hurley area will be 24 feet wide while that between Route 9W and Route 28 will be two 24-foot wide concrete roadways separated by a 26-foot minimum width strip.

To Be Widened Later

The section south of Route 28, it was noted, will be widened as soon as traffic warrants a wider road.

The route will cross the railroad at a point 0.4 of a mile west of the railroad bridge just north of the Beatty farm property.

Proposal on Tracks

"It is proposed," said the report, that the track be raised a maximum of two feet at the center line of the highway over a horizontal distance of about 800 feet on grades of 0.5 per cent. The railroad will do that work as ordered by the commission.

The grade crossing will be protected by flashing light signals.

The road at the crossing will be four feet wider on each side than the rest of the route between Route 28 and Hurley.

The railroad now operates only a train westerly between 9 and 11 p. m., on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and one easterly between 4 and 7 p. m., on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The maximum authorized train speed is 30 miles an hour.

Doesn't Warrant Bridge

Approval of the plans was submitted in writing by the railroad. It was not represented at a public hearing on the proposal last fall.

Due to the type of train movements, it was noted, the state public works department held that the project did not warrant a bridge, that would cost several hundred thousand dollars, at the crossing.

The bypass project begins on Route 209 about 800 feet north of the town of Marbletown, and extends northward along a new location about 3,500 feet to the former NYO&W right-of-way. It will go along that right-of-way through Hurley to the Town of Ulster line and thence northward over farm land to the Catskill Mountain Branch of the railroad company.

The route continues "northerly across NY Route 28 to County Road 42 (the Sawkill Road) thence easterly to the westerly approach to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge, crossing the Thruway and other highways en route."

Both indictments, the first by the special grand jury, were returned on December 11. At that time the defendants were arraigned, pleas of innocent entered and defendants were released under $1,000 bail each. Later, on January 9, Ashby, Ulster County Commissioner of Jurors who was later relieved of his duties at his own request pending determination of the perjury charge, was named in a superseding perjury indictment.

Trial of the perjury, second degree, charge has been scheduled by Justice Greenberg for (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Plead Innocent

At the time of arraignment counsel was granted time for preparation of motions directed to the indictments. That time, January 14, was later extended to January 19 at 10 a. m.

Central Hudson Can Sell Stocks to Help Expansion

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission today authorized the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. of Poughkeepsie to sell stocks for funds to expand its Danskammer Point generating station.

The company was given permission to issue and sell up to 350,000 additional shares of its no-par-value stock, to raise not less than five million dollars.

The issue will be sold to an underwriting group, through negotiation. The market price must be not less than 35 per cent of the closing price on outstanding shares the day before the sale.

In another ruling, the PSC authorized Onondaga Coach Corp. of Auburn to raise most of its fares next Monday.

The company operates a 26-mile bus route between Syracuse and Auburn and a 32-mile route between Syracuse and Marcellus. Present fares range from 15 to 70 cents on the Auburn route and from 20 to 50 cents on the Marcellus route.

Under the new schedule, Onondaga will raise the minimum fares from 15 cents to 20, and the through fare on its Auburn route from 70 cents to 85. Nine other intermediate fares of 20 or 35 cents will be raised five cents each. Proportionate increases will be made in round-trip and commutation fares, which are sold at reduced rates.

Adenauer Asks for Details

New Ideas Likely Under Discussion

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has reassured West Germany that it is standing pat — for the time being, at least — on the policy of seeking German reunification through free, all-German elections.

Official statements, however, did not rule out the possibility of future revision of this policy.

The West German government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer sought more information after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told a news conference that free elections were the "natural method" but not the only possible way of merging the two parts of Germany into a single nation again.

Might Be Modified

This was interpreted as meaning that the stand for free elections might be modified if some other practical avenue to unification opened up in prospective negotiations with the Soviet Union.

It is understood that various new ideas relating to the German problem are under discussion in the State Department, even though all in the end could be discarded.

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe and Herbert Dittmann, top-ranking emissary from the German Foreign Office, conferred with Dulles for an hour Wednesday.

Issues Statement

Grewe then issued this statement, saying that it had Dulles' full approval: "The secretary affirmed that it is the policy of the United States government to seek reunification of Germany through free elections."

State Department press officer Lincoln White also issued a statement saying, "There is no change in the United States position of support for free elections as the best and most logical method of achieving a true and workable reunification of Germany."

Legion Requests Public Campsite In Esopus Area

A petition requesting the development of a public campsite in the Twin Lakes or Mirror Lake area in the Town of Esopus has been directed to local, state and federal government groups by the Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion.

At the regular meeting of the Legion Post, the request for a campsite was presented by Past Commander Chester Barth. The petition, directed to the Town of Esopus Board, Department of Internal Affairs, New York State Conservation Department, Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, requests consideration of the campsite. Since recreational facilities between New York and Albany on the West Shore of the Hudson River are "practically non-existent," the petition requests serious consideration be given development of facilities in this area.

40th Birthday Plans

Other business transacted at the Legion meeting included the appointment of John Spinnenweber as birthday party chairman to arrange for the 40th birthday celebration of the founding of the American Legion. The party will be held Saturday, March 14.

County Commander Edgar M. Maurer announced the membership of the Esopus Post at 246. He expressed hope that membership in the post would reach a new high by March 14.

Blue Crutch Drive

The Blue Crutch drive in the Town of Esopus will be held Saturday, Jan. 24. Chairman Edgar M. Maurer urged all people in the township to give generously to the drive for the national foundation. It is planned to use the 40 & 8 locomotive and have teams of Cub and Boy Scouts follow with collection containers.

It was announced that property for a Little League playing field was about to be acquired.

Next meeting of the Ulster County committee will be held at Kingston Post 150 Monday, Jan. 26.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
PRESIDENT'S OPPORTUNITY

No President has had a better opportunity to serve unhampered, to follow his conscience, to provide for his people uncompromisingly than Dwight D. Eisenhower. The Constitution forbids him to run again in 1960 and therefore he can have no personal ambition in the matter. He need not bow to any man or to a vote in the convention, for his name will not be presented. He can follow his own course without regard to any selfish concern for the future. A President without a political future has a tremendous political advantage.

Also, every man who has recovered from a killing illness comes to realize that he is living on borrowed time and that his life having been spared, he owes much to God and less to himself. This came to me as I read Eisenhower's 1959 State of the Union message, which was no heart-searing, soul-stirring document, but seemed like an essay that had been put together by not too very skillful hands. It was not applauded too vociferously when spoken, not because most of the Congress is Democratic, but because these men also talk for a living and have some experience with the forensic art. There was little to applaud.

One does not expect every President to possess the oratorical abilities of an Edmund Burke or a Daniel Webster, but one does expect the President to be a man of more than 170,000,000 people, in a crisis, to say something sharply and spiritually stimulating. President Eisenhower spoke of thrift in an era of profligacy; he spoke of thrift to a Congress which is planning to accelerate the inflation until the currency of America will be worthless except to bankers, brokers and other speculators who live on currencies to protect what they call their position.

What an opportunity lay in that one word, thrift, for the President to speak a homily on the American character and its debasement in this generation! It was an opportunity he missed, for even though the Congress applauded the word, thrift, the President rushed on as though he were in a fearful hurry to get the whole thing over with.

What the American people require now is not a Churchill to orate them into blood and tears or a de Gaulle to promise only austerity. The American people need a spiritual hormone, as it were; something that will take them out of the debasement of materialism and sex and beating the tax collector into respect for their own dignity as individuals and as a people; respect for work and for the fruits of their labor; respect for individual achievement and a lift away from that faceless, meaningless "togetherness" which turns strong men into sheeplike followers and obedient servants of racketeers and thieves.

We shall not gain that self-respect from the Mikoyan hoax which obviously took weeks of preparation although we were softened into believing that he came as a tourist to gaze in shop windows and to buy vegetables in supermarkets. Who dares to fool the American people about so serious a matter? Were the invitations to the various fiestas arranged for the Armenian vendor of Skodra arms before he arrived or spontaneously after he got here? If the latter, it was a feat of organization and were there an honest Congressional committee, it would inquire who sat at the central desk to do the telephoning and the mobilizing.

The President's speech reminded me of Calvin Coolidge's remarks on a preacher's sermon. Someone asked Coolidge what the preacher talked about.

Coolidge replied that he spoke of sin. His listeners pressed him for a lengthier statement.

Coolidge replied: "The preacher said that he was against sin." And here endeth the lesson. (Copyright, 1959, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Every Story Has Two Sides—
Even Parent-Child Quarrels

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Several years ago a desperate father brought his 15-year-old son in to see me. Apparently the boy's behavior was bad and, as a last resort, the father thought there might be some physical condition at fault.

The boy was sullen and uncommunicative. He obviously came to the office only because his father made him. The father was extremely upset and constantly spoke sharply to the youngster. There was nothing physically wrong with the boy and his mental reactions appeared perfectly normal. But it did not take long to tell what was wrong.

First, I pointed out to the father that a 15-year-old boy was no longer a small child and could not be ordered around as he had been when younger.

The father had been raised in the old school where the father's word was law. He expected his teen-age son to obey his every word without question. The father had not been able to adjust himself gradually to the growing maturity and outside interests of his son—or the kind of society in which they were now living.

The boy, on the other hand, was completely unsympathetic with his father. He failed to realize that the father was picking on him all the time because of love for him and desire that he should develop into a fine upstanding man.

This was apparently a new idea to the boy. His eyes widened to the completely new idea that his father would cut off his own right hand if it would help him.

I hope that the conversation may have meant the beginning of a new understanding between father and son and the development of a happier relationship than had existed in the past. Both needed to understand the other better and both needed an increased respect for the individuality, thoughts and problems of the other.

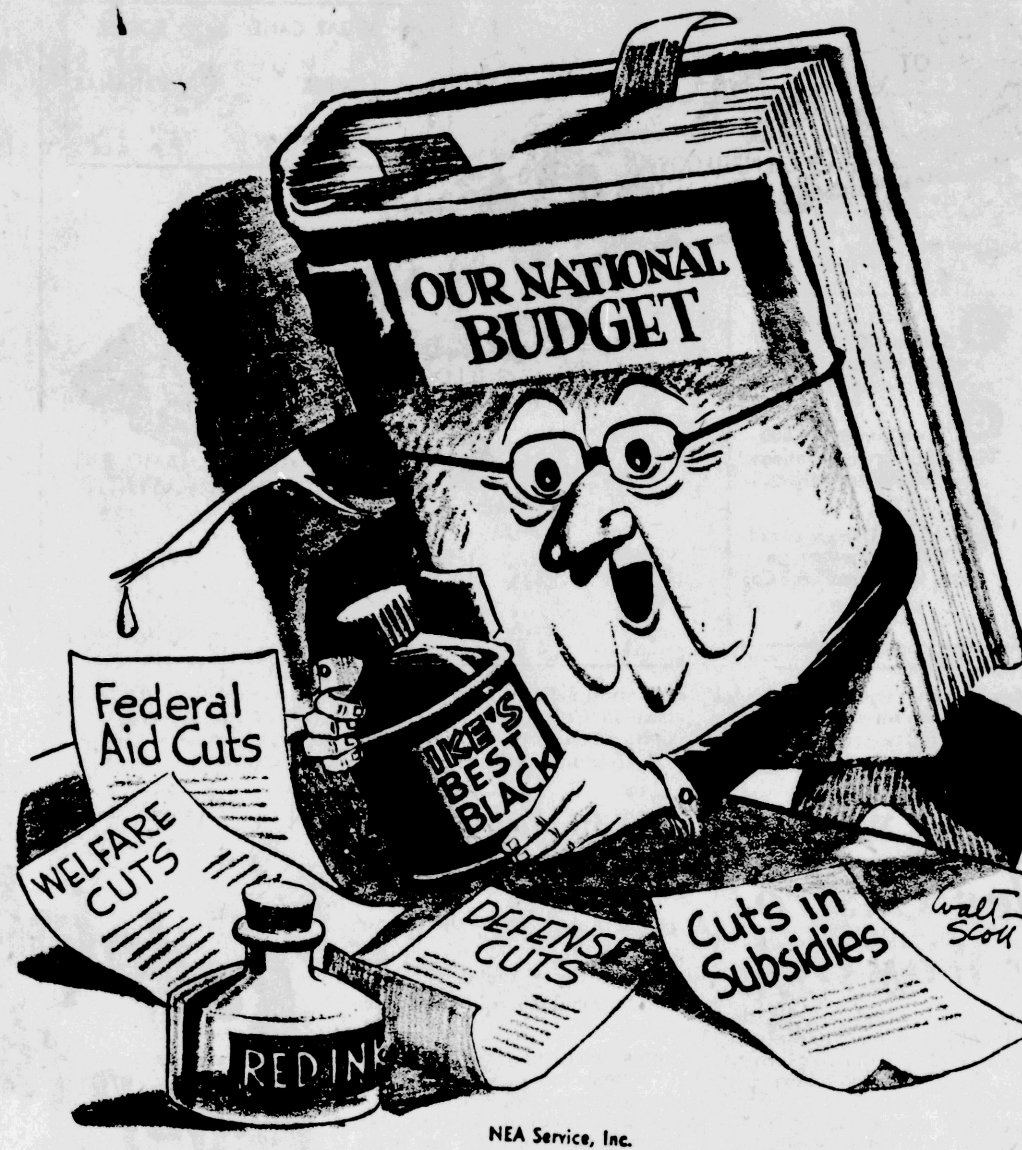

This kind of problem in varying degrees affects almost all fathers and sons. It is difficult for fathers, in many cases, to realize the gradual change from completely dependent babyhood to mature adult. It is often even more difficult for mothers to make these necessary adjustments with their sons—or their daughters either.

What has all this to do with health? Constant family friction can certainly lead to emotional strain. This in turn may affect many illnesses which are known to be greatly influenced by the emotions.

Furthermore, it is not just the physical health which counts, but also mental and emotional adjustment to life's many problems.

Washington News

WASHINGTON (NEA)—When Senator Everett M. Dirksen was a young man after World War I, he got into the bakery business with a brother. They had to get to work at 5 a. m. to mix the dough and bake the bread. Then they had to get out and deliver it.

It was from this that the junior senator from Illinois, now chosen minority leader in the upper chamber for the 86th Congress, formed his habit of being an early riser. It is only in the last few years, after he turned 60, that he has been persuaded to stay in bed until 7.

It's in the early morning hours that Ev Dirksen has trained himself to do most of his thinking.

HE HAS A GREAT REPUTATION as an extemporaneous speaker. He is a commanding orator. In the 16 years that he served in the House of Representatives—the most difficult audience in the world to hold—he always got attention. But behind every one of his impromptu speeches there is careful preparation. He outlines his speeches in little black pocket notebooks. He has a couple of brief cases full of these notebooks now. They're crammed with statistics and records and references which he can quote in debate. They make him a tough opponent.

On top of this, Dirksen has an amazing memory in that big shaggy head of his. It is not a photographic memory. But he can glance down a page and absorb the main points it presents without studying it.

Senator Dirksen developed these traits as a college debater at University of Minnesota law school. He worked his way, living with an older married sister. His father died when the boy was five. And his mother raised half a dozen youngsters. They grew vegetables which the boys sold to help support the family.

He enlisted in World War I as a private. He served in the balloon corps and in field artillery, with 17 months overseas. He was promoted to lieutenant in the field.

Because he spoke German, he stayed overseas a year after the armistice. When he came home in uniform after everyone else was demobilized, he attracted attention.

A couple of business ventures didn't turn out too well. But they got him a start in politics, as city councilman.

AFTER 16 YEARS in the House of Representatives, 1933 to 1949, he had to resign because his eyes went bad. Resting his eyes, he took up gardening again, only this time it was flowers. He's a rose expert now.

Returning to Washington after his election to the Senate in 1950, the senator and Mrs. Dirksen got a little country place in nearby Port Republic, Md., where he had no telephone and could get some rest. He had to give this up when it was discovered he had an allergy for field mice.

The Dirksens now live in a Massachusetts Ave. apartment house when in Washington. But they have recently acquired a little country place on the river near Herndon, Va., and they try to spend weekends there.

It is the first home of their own they have ever owned. This one has a telephone.

SENATOR DIRKSEN takes brief cases of work home when he leaves his office around seven each evening after a 10-hour day. Often Mrs. Dirksen takes dictation. Then she comes to the office and redictates to secretaries.

When he campaigns for office he drives all over the state. Mrs. Dirksen goes with him and takes dictation for future speeches in the front seat. He drinks coffee at every opportunity, all day long. He even drinks it when it's stone cold.

The big riddle of his career as Senate Republican leader is how he'll get along with the GOP progressives who tried to knife him. His backers think he'll do all right.

For Dirksen served as chairman of the Senate Republican campaign committee for four years and he has helped all his colleagues at one time or another. This includes even Senators William Langer of North Dakota who campaigned against Dirksen in Illinois—and Wayne Morse of Oregon—in the days when he was a Republican.

On the Spot

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., (AP)—Second Lt. Thomas Stewart made an emergency landing at Flagstaff Airport. His jet knocked down five landing lights, ran off the runway, crashed through a fence and smashed into a row of trees. But Stewart walked away unscathed. An Air Force investigation team flew to the airport to determine the cause of the crash. After investigation, the five team members and Stewart were heading home when their light plane suddenly veered off the runway, spun around and stopped in soft dirt. None was injured. All but one member of the team left on a third plane. The fifth man stayed behind to determine the cause of the second accident.

Today in National Affairs

Eisenhower's Health, Vigor Manifested at Press Talk

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower may have thought last Friday he was addressing the most important audience in the nation when he talked to both houses of Congress, but he was mistaken. His audience at a 50th anniversary celebration of the National Press Club of Washington was really more important.

For, in his address to the Congress, the President revealed the national and international policies of his Administration. To the press he revealed Dwight Eisenhower—the man, the soldier, and the chief executive of the most powerful government in the free world. He spoke to far more newspaper men than are eligible to attend his usual press conferences at the White House.

Contrary to the insidious propaganda that has in recent months been spread in America, Mr. Eisenhower was no invalid standing before the members of the press, nor an individual, as sometimes pictured, indifferent to the cares of his office. No "part-time" President of hesitant speech stood before the assembled newspaper men and their associates, but a Chief Executive of erect bearing whose ruddy face, alertness and directness of speech gave an even better impression of health and vigor than six years ago when he was inaugurated.

Reminiscences on War
Dwight Eisenhower has his critics—they differ with him vehemently on public questions. But few persons who have watched him in public office would deny that he has an innate graciousness and kindness toward his fellow man, natural and spontaneous, which is his biggest asset.

When the President was asked by the newsmen to do a bit of reminiscence about his work as head of the Allied Armies in World War II, he did so with characteristic modesty. He gave credit to his associate commanders and to his staff. He conceded that there had once been doubts among our Allies as to how the war should be fought—whether the invasion of Normandy was wise and the length of time it might take to achieve victory. "But," he said, with a smile, "we won."

Looking back to those fateful days of the war when the lives of millions of American and Allied soldiers depended upon the wisdom and judgment of the commanders, one wonders why today there are even a few misguided persons writing for the press or making partisan speeches who would question for a moment the fidelity to his job which Dwight Eisenhower as a man of military tradition gives to the constitutional office to which he is bound by oath to serve faithfully.

Calls Respect Necessary
Arguments on public policy involve natural differences of opinion, and there is justification for sharp debate on issues and principles. But respect must be given to the Chief Executive as a person, especially when he is honestly trying to carry out the duties of his office. This correspondent recalls that he expressed the same view when at press conferences that even faced a Chief Executive in our history. Even as he spoke at the National Press Club, he was not able to give off-the-cuff the detailed or comprehensive answers which some of the newsmen wanted. But no President can enunciate policies in impromptu fashion. He can explain their background but in a "cold war," with every word that a President says cabled immediately around the world, it becomes necessary to be both cautious and restrained.

Impossible Job
The Presidency itself is today an impossible job. The public expects one man to be policy maker, administrator, debater, showman and leader of popular causes, and, with all that, to make progress in government, notwithstanding that the opposite political party has an overwhelming majority in both houses of Congress.

Some day the American people will have to face up to the fact that they must adopt a cabinet system of government as an integral part of the national legislature so that leadership may come from the ranks of the legislators of experience, as in the parliamentary systems abroad. But until that time comes, political personalities without experience or background in governmental affairs will intermittently be elected to the Presidency, and it is to be hoped they will all have the common sense, the quiet dignity and honesty of purpose that Dwight Eisenhower has exhibited in his work as a soldier and Chief Executive. DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I just received a letter from Basil Mitchell who used to be with the Adrienne Memorial Library, Poughkeepsie. He now is with the Vermont State Free Public Library Commission, Montpelier, Vt. I see printed in heavy green ink on their stationery, "1609-Champlain 350th Anniversary Festival-1959." I take it this celebration will not only be in New York State but will take in the entire upper eastern portion.

With the paintings of Great Britain displayed here in our Kingston City Library through the courtesy of the fine arts Department of the IBM Corporation has brought some interest to our own John Vanderlyn. The IBM exhibit included two very fine portraits. One by Sir Joshua Reynolds of Lord John Townshend and one of Lady John Townshend by George Romney, both in oils. Paintings of this sort are priceless, and only when they are sold publicly are people astounded at the prices they bring.

In the middle 1700's it was the fashion to have one's portrait painted by as well-known artist as one could afford. Our John Vanderlyn was of that time, but he did not go to the places where the real money was and set up a studio and residence life for instance in Gainsborough, and Sir Joshua Reynolds in London and cater to the aristocracy. There was room for such a fine portrait artist in London, although he was known to have his sitters have some 50 to 60 sittings at several hours each. Notice when these portrait artists lived. Joshua Reynolds 1723-1792; Gainsborough 1727-1788; Romney 1734-1802; Reuben 1756-1823; Sir. Benj. West 1738-1820; Lawrence 1769-1830; and Vanderlyn 1775-1852. They were all remarkable portrait painters.

In Vanderlyn's memoirs there is mention of Washington Allston, a friend of his. In a letter from Paris, dated November 1843, Vanderlyn writes about the death of his friend Allston: "When I look back, some 5 or 6 or 30 years since, when we were both in Rome together, and next door neighbors on the Trinita del Monte, and in the spring of life, full of enthusiasm for our art, and fancying fair prospects awaiting us, in after years, it is painful to reflect how far these hopes have been from being realized."

This from a previous letter "I had the pleasure of having Washington Allston for a neighbor in Rome, an excellent friend and companion, whose encouraging counsels I found useful to me, as in all my endeavors he readily sympathized with me. We were the only American students of art in Rome at that time, and regretted not to have had a few more, as was the case with those from most other countries."

It is interesting to read something about Allston from another source. It is said in the Book of Knowledge that he was one of the few southern early American artists. He was born in South Carolina in 1779. He was educated at Newport, R. I. and at Harvard and was a boyhood friend of Edward Malbone, who became a miniature painter of note. Allston studied four years in Rome, where he had as friends, George Romney, Byron and Turner. "The Dead Man Restored to Life" is one of his best known pictures. So no doubt, Vanderlyn was surrounded with interesting friends. Vanderlyn also had a knack of writing, but he did it only in letters to business acquaintances or personal friends. There was a collection of letters and such which were at a publishing house in New York during which time there was a fire and they were burned.

Johnson Calls Signals as Dems Fill Committees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) held a taut rein today on the Senate party organization.

With Johnson in full command as majority leader, Democrats parceled out their committee assignments Wednesday. Republicans are expected to have their assignments completed in time for approval by the Senate on Saturday. That would permit organization of individual committees next week.

Revamp Party Rations

In an agreement with Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, Johnson won Senate approval of enlarging some of the important Senate committees and revamping their party ratios to conform with the new lineup of 64 Democrats and 34 Republicans. Johnson's assignment of his party members appeared to reward some of the Democratic freshmen who supported his successful effort this week to compromise the fight over the senate's filibuster rule.

Freshmen Rewarded

One of these, Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, got two major committee places, on Appropriations and Banking, an almost unprecedented attainment for a freshman. Sens. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut and Gale McGee of Wyoming, who supported Johnson's compromise, also drew Appropriations Committee assignments.

The Appropriations Committee, which handles all of the money bills, was enlarged to 27 members, more than a fourth of the Senate's total of 98.

Other Democrats added to the group included Sens. Alan Bible of Nevada, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, and John Stennis of Mississippi.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, a strong Johnson backer, won a coveted place on the Foreign Relations Committee. Other party vacancies on that group were filled by Sens. Albert Gore of Tennessee and Frank Lausche of Ohio.

Gore, Lausche Added

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, formerly a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, won a place on the tax-handling Finance Committee. McCarthy opposed Johnson's rules compromise. Sen. R. Vance Hartke of Indiana, who backed Johnson, and Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, also won places on this committee.

Three strong supporters of organized labor were assigned as new members of the Labor Committee. They were Sens. Joseph S. Clark Jr. of Pennsylvania, Jennings Randolph of West Virginia and Harrison A. Williams Jr. of New Jersey.

Over Voter Records

Jurist to Hear Fate Today for Defying CR Agents

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—An Alabama jurist learns today what price—if any—he must pay for defying agents of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission and a federal court order.

A hearing was expected to determine whether Circuit Court Judge George C. Wallace will be punished for not obeying a decree to show disputed voter records to commission agents.

The decision is up to U.S. Dist. Court Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. Johnson may decide that the purpose of his order, if not the letter, has been fulfilled. The registration files in dispute have been turned over to civil rights investigators, though not by Wallace.

Grand juries of Barbour and Bullock counties—which Wallace hurriedly empaneled this week and to which he gave the records—made the files available for inspection. Wallace told the jurors they could do what they wanted to with the records.

Commission agents were said Wednesday night to have finished checking the files for evidence of discrimination against prospective Negro voters in the two rural counties.

Wallace's rebellious action was originally scheduled for hearing Wednesday but Johnson granted federal attorneys a 24-hour delay.

Columnist Won't Be Asked Source Of Tip for Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Columnist Marie Torre will not be asked again in court for at least a year to reveal the source of an item she wrote concerning Judy Garland, the actress' lawyer said today.

Miss Torre, radio-television columnist for the New York Herald Tribune, Wednesday completed a 10-day jail term on a contempt charge for refusing to name the source.

She had faced a possible new sentence if she again had refused to answer.

Miss Torre attributed her information concerning Miss Garland to a Columbia Broadcasting System executive. But in a pretrial examination of a $1,393,333 libel suit brought by the actress against CBS, Miss Torre declined to identify him, invoking freedom of the press under the First Amendment. Lionel S. Popkin, attorney for Miss Garland, told a news conference today he had concluded the pretrial examination.

"We do not intend to take any proceedings against Miss Torre," he said.

Popkin said he did not expect Miss Garland's suit against CBS to begin for at least a year.

Gag Is Denied Of Witnesses on Budget of Ike's

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) said today he does not want witnesses pressured to support President Eisenhower's budget when they appear before his House Appropriations Committee.

Cannon criticized a letter from Budget Director Maurice H. Stans which cautioned department and agency heads against asking more money than the budget would provide.

The letter reportedly reminds the government officials that it is a violation of the 1921 Budget Act to ask increases in budget requests without clearing them through proper channels. But a Budget Bureau spokesman denied that it was meant to gag prospective witnesses.

Eisenhower will send his 77-billion-dollar budget to Congress plans to start hearings Tuesday, Monday. Cannon's committee plans to start hearings Tuesday. Copies of the Stans' letter were not available on Capitol Hill, but Cannon said he was aware of its existence.

"How are we going to intelligently act on a budget when the witnesses who were the experts in preparing it are under restraint when we ask them to give us details," he asked in an interview.

Many Democrats already have attacked as unrealistic Eisenhower's spending plans for the fiscal year starting next July 1. There could be fireworks if the committee members think witnesses are not frank in expressing their views.

THE MANY FACES OF SAFETY—

Here's the mask worn by jet pilots. The tube provides oxygen supply at extremely high altitudes.

This mask and plastic hood protect workers who are spraying paint or other toxic substances.

The heat mask is widely used in steel industry, mostly worn by men operating blast furnaces.

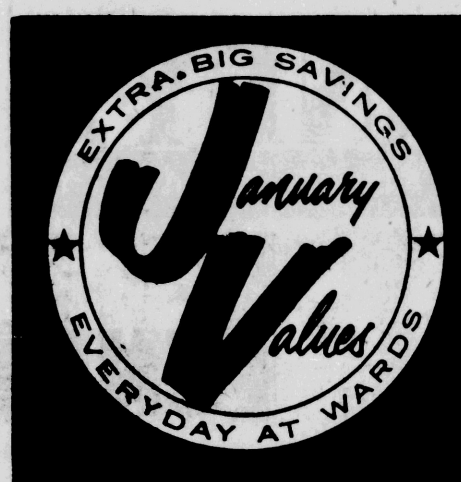

The abrasive helmet is used to protect workers engaged in shot and sand blasting operations.

Quite a few men and women put on new faces these days when they go to work. They wear masks. Shown above are some examples of the protective devices worn by persons whose health and lives would be endangered without them.

Oil Industry Facing Threat Of Walkouts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's largest strike, involving 37,000 International Harvester Co. workers, appeared near an end today but a forecast of widespread walkouts in the oil industry darkened the labor picture.

Negotiators for the Harvester Company and the striking United Auto Workers have reached an agreement on a three-year contract. The union's Harvester council meets Friday to vote on the terms and ratification appeared likely, ending the costly two-month strike.

May Develop Soon

The walkout involved the big farm implement firm's 25 factories, transfer points and depots. On the debit side of the labor news, O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Chemical and Atomic Workers, with a membership of 105,000 in the oil industry, said widespread strikes are likely to develop early next week.

Knight's prediction came as federal mediators in Kansas City reported no progress in contract talks between the Sinclair Oil Co. and the union representing 9,500 of its workers.

Strike notices which expire at midnight Saturday have been filed with Sinclair and most of the 600 individual oil plants with which the union has contracts.

Sinclair Sets Pattern

The Sinclair contract is the only one negotiated on a nationwide basis in the oil industry by the union but it usually sets the pattern for other contracts on a plant-by-plant basis. The union has asked for a wage hike of 25 cents an hour or 21 cents an hour plus fringe benefits. Sinclair has not offered a wage increase. The average wage now is $2.71 an hour.

Wages Not Issue

Seniority rights and incentive pay are believed to be the major issues in dispute. Wages are not involved.

In Los Angeles, 1,000 supermarkets have been closed since Jan. 1 by a strike-lockout. The strike is by the Retail Clerks Union and the lockout by the Food Employers Council, representing the store operators, in retaliation.

The strike-lockout has idled 16,000 persons and has changed the shopping habits of housewives. They do their marketing at 4,500 grocery stores not affected by the walkout.

The clerks have demanded a wage benefit package totaling $2.5 cents hourly spread over a five-year contract. The employers offered a 50-cent package offer. The clerks were paid $2.30 hourly under the old contract.

Jail Elusive

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—A jail inmate here says he had a difficult time getting in the pokie. He drank a bottle of wine, used a bottle to break a postoffice door, then smashed it against an inside wall and sat on the steps. Nobody paid any attention. He went to police headquarters and asked to be locked up "so I can get something to eat."

2 Rochester Stations Sold to N. Y. Group

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP) — Radio stations WHAM and WHFM of Rochester have been sold by the Riggs and Greene Broadcasting Corp. of Elmira to the Genesee Broadcasting Co. of New York City. The sale price was reportedly about $1,000,000. Riggs and Greene, owned principally by John S. Riggs of Elmira and F. Robert Greene of Buffalo, bought the stations from Transcontinent Television Corp. in July, 1956. The principal stockholders of Genesee Broadcasting are Century Theaters, Inc., and Henry L. Christal Co. Inc., both of New York City. WHAM has a power of 50,000 watts and is affiliated with the National Broadcasting Co.

Grand Jury Gets Green Light on Probing Contracts

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The holdover Erie County Grand Jury has a green light to proceed with its investigation of Buffalo's paving contracts.

The Appellate Division, Fourth Department, unanimously upheld the jury's legality Wednesday.

This had been challenged by Raymond F. Brayer, Buffalo paving contractor and a central figure in the jury's investigation.

Brayer argued that the jury, empaneled in September, had officially ended its work Oct. 6 when it handed up its formal report. He claimed that it was illegally held over to conduct the paving probe.

Brayer completed a 30-day jail sentence last month, imposed when he refused to testify before the grand jury. He was cited for contempt.

Among other things the jury asked him was whether his company, Rock Asphalt Inc., had given $49,500 to city officials to obtain paving contracts.

Authorities said checks totaling that amount had been issued during 1954-56 by the company which listed them as promotion expenses.

Binghamton Publisher Receives First Letter

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) — Broome County's Republican chairman can boast of a letter from Gov. Rockefeller—a special letter.

The letter to William H. Hill starts off:

"This is the first letter I am dictating as governor."

The governor thanked Hill for "courage in publicly declaring" support for Rockefeller and thus giving "initial momentum" to the latter's candidacy last fall. The letter was written Jan. 5.

Hill is publisher of the Binghamton Sun, a morning daily.

Interesting Albany Parallel

Rocky Is Starting Out Like Harriman

By CHARLES DUMAS
 Associated Press Staff Writer
 ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The way Nelson Rockefeller is starting out as governor, it looks as though he borrowed the script from Averell Harriman.

The title of the script: "How to be Governor in a Pre-presidential Year."

Folk who watched Democrat Harriman take the reins of state government four years ago find the first days of Rockefeller's Republican administration somehow familiar.

Lead Off on Taxes
 Remember the first thing Harriman did? He called for higher taxes.

What did Rockefeller do? He called for higher taxes, too. Look at this striking resemblance in the heart of their messages to the Legislature.

Harriman (1955) — "The state government has actually been living beyond its means... the day of reckoning has arrived."

Rockefeller (1959) — "In the last two years, it (the state government) has spent far beyond its income... the time is overdue for facing fiscal realities."

In both cases, the new governors were succeeding men of the opposing political party.

One Big Difference
 What happened after Harriman spoke his piece and what will happen to Rockefeller are two different things. There's an interesting parallel but one big difference, too.

The parallel is that both men took office in a year preceding a presidential election. Both emerged from their upset election victories as prime presidential timbers.

Harriman denied presidential ambitions. But almost everyone knew he had designs on the White House. The next year—1956—he made an all-out bid for his party's nomination.

Rockefeller also disavows presidential intentions. But many people believe that he will turn up as a contender for the GOP nomination next year.

Home Record Is Key
 A governor interested in the presidency must be a careful planner. When nominating time rolls around, he wants to have a good home-state record.

Since tax increases are unpopular, would-be presidents try to bury this kind of activity as deeply in the past as possible.

When Harriman took office, he decided taxes had to be raised. Instead of waiting until 1956, the presidential year, he acted immediately. In 1955, he did away with the income tax "forgiveness" of 10 per cent by vetoing GOP bills to continue it.

Has Friendly Legislature

Rockefeller is weighing income tax increases, too. But he also is working on gasoline, diesel fuel and cigarette tax boosts.

Persons close to the governor concede that if he is to be a presidential possibility next year, he had better finish the tax-raising now.

The big difference between the 1955 and 1959 situations is that Harriman had to deal with a hostile Legislature while Rockefeller faces a friendly one.

The heavily Republican legislative body fought Harriman's tax plans to the last gasp of its mimeograph machines. The same lawmakers are smiling warmly on fellow Republican Rockefeller.

That's where the script changes.

Albany Reports State Recovering From Recession

ALBANY — New York State is well on its way to recovery, although many segments of its economy are still below pre-recession levels, according to the State Commerce Department's annual review released here today.

Segments of the state's business which fared best, the report noted, were those directly dependent upon the consumer, such as retail trade and services. All other major industries were down during the year, the most severe reversal occurring in factory output.

In March, the volume of goods and services produced in the state had fallen to the lowest point since the end of 1955. By November, the seasonally adjusted index of business activity in New York State, which measures output of goods and services, had recovered to within two points of the all-time high achieved in April through July 1957.

In the first 11 months of 1958, the index averaged 129 (1947-1949 equals 100) compared with 134 for the similar period in 1957. From January through November, the retail component of the index averaged 126, the same as the like period in 1957, while that of the service trades improved slightly.

The complete report appears in the current issue of "Commerce Review," published monthly by the State Commerce Department.

Down in the Dumps

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — It was good business—not the lack of it—that drove dress shop owner Donald Faulkner to rooting around in the city dump. He was looking—without any luck—for $2,900 in store receipts dumped from the wastebasket where he had hidden it.

CHALLENGE OF STEEL—Roaring furnaces of the Free World have produced over 210 million net tons of ingot and casting steel in 1958, a drop from the previous year, according to Steel magazine. Communist nations registered gains, but still produce less than a third of the world total. Of the top five Free World producers only France registered an increase, while the only Communist country that fell off from 1957 was North Korea.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Galvin knows that some of life's most fascinating scenes end up on a film cutting room floor.

If the nation's celebrities appear to best advantage on NBC-TV's "Today" program, they can thank Galvin, who has been carefully guarding their reputations as supervising film editor of the show since it went on the air seven years ago.

With the promise that no names would be revealed, Galvin took to reminiscing the other day. He recalled:

The filmed interview with a leading lady prominent in American politics who kept dozing while the TV reporter asked her questions. Galvin's gallant scissors made her appear wide awake.

The eminent poet who, when making a filmed commentary on his work, used language unpoetic and unfit for home consumption each time he muffed a line. When Galvin finished cutting, his remarks were both poetic and proper.

The renowned novelist who kept a glass of whisky under his chair and hoisted it frequently during a filmed interview in his home. Galvin's scissors made him look like a teetotaler.

The elder statesman who was seized by a violent and uncontrollable itch before the cameras. Galvin made sure he didn't scratch once on the home screen. Galvin has been a celebrity watcher since 1925, when he became film editor for a newsreel company at the age of 15.

All his work with film has stood Galvin in good stead when viewing TV at home. When his highly trained eyes watch a filmed show, he can tell when it's exactly 11 seconds before the commercial break—and thus gets a head start for the beer in the refrigerator.

The committee includes Councilmen Stirling Potter, and Sol Rosenthal, and Supervisor Mabie. The formation of a separate water board, in accordance with a request of the Port Ewen Businessmen's Association, is being considered as part of the revision of the code, Supervisor Mabie said.

A letter from Lloyd Maeder, director of State Traffic Commission informed the board that the commission is making a study of six traffic conditions in the town in accordance with a request by the board.

The board requested the installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Route 213 and Maple Street; establishment of speed zones on Ulster Avenue, Ulster Park and North Broadway; Slightbush; extension of speed zones on Salem Street, Port Ewen to West Shore Railroad tracks and on Route 9W to south of former airport property; and removal of a traffic sign forming a visual obstruction on Route 9W at the Clay Road.

Mrs. Michael Lisman, chairman of the parent's group promoting dances, and DeVal H. Dunbar, a park commissioner, reported that two record hops were scheduled in the Town Auditorium Saturday, Jan. 17 and Jan. 31. The report stated that the teenagers had drafted a set of rules governing their behavior in the hall during the dance.

A board committee to provide recreation for the elder citizens of the town reported on a meeting with Miss Hilda Smith of the State Education Department in which various programs were outlined. The committee reported it is contacting local clergymen to determine the amount of interest in such a program.

The board gave approval for the change of the north-south section of Clay Road to Mt. View Road.

The names Roger Street in Port Ewen, a new street, in the Elmendorf housing development, and Terbo Lane in Rifton were accepted by the board.

cent it raised the cigarette tax—thus 50 million from a two-cent increase.

For the average pack-a-day smoker, a penny increase obviously would cost $3.65 a year and a two-cent increase $7.30.

The motor-fuel tax bill was introduced by Sen. Earl W. Brydges of Niagara Falls and Assemblyman Ray S. Ashberry of Tompkins County, Republicans. They are members of the Defendord Commission on Highway Finance, which has been urging higher gas taxes since 1954.

Most of the money would be used to support the state's expanded highway construction program, based on a 500-million-dollar bond issue approved by New York voters in 1956.

Most Republicans in the Legislature are expected to back Rockefeller on the gas tax.

Dem's Are Uncertain

The Democrats' attitude is uncertain, however. The Senate's minority leader, Joseph Zaretzki, said Wednesday he thought that perhaps only a one-cent increase was needed.

The increase actually would produce about 66 million dollars in extra revenue, but the state would gain only 60 million because 10 per cent of the extra money will be returned as usual to county governments for their local road-building programs.

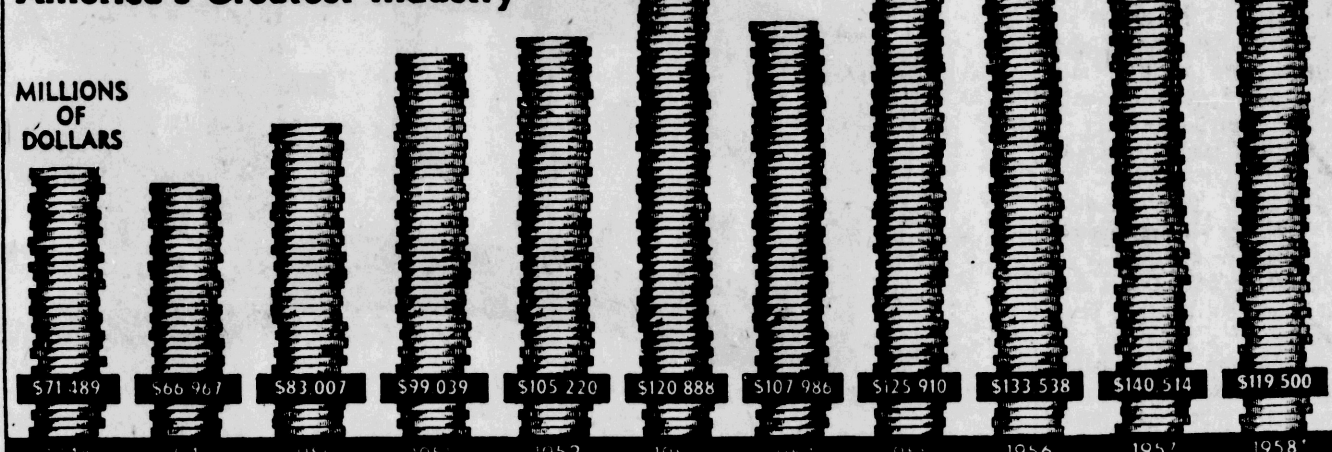

While the counties will continue to get their share, gasoline distributors, who are paid a one per cent commission for collecting the current tax, will not be cut in on the extra money.

River Helps Culprits

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Police rounded up 33 men in a raid on a gambling den on the outskirts of Taipei Wednesday night.

As the culprits were marched over a bridge, 13 jumped into the cold waters of the Hsintien River. The police went after them and caught all 13. But the other 20 gamblers escaped—successfully.

Metalworking: America's Greatest Industry

Although manufacturers' sales in the metalworking industry declined in 1958 because of the recession, it is still the country's largest industry. At an estimated 119.5 billion dollars, sales were 15 per cent below the record 140.5 billion dollars of 1957, but still were the fifth highest on record. In the year-by-year comparison above, ordinance is not included, because the government does not reveal figures on it. But that classification accounts for only a small part of production for defense. Many defense items fall under other classifications, such as transportation equipment or instruments. Data here are from the Office of Business Economics, U.S. Dept. of Commerce, with figures for 1958 estimated by Steel magazine.

Permanent Plate

plate, motorists would renew their registration annually and display a tab or windshield sticker as proof that fees had been paid.

Replacement in Time

While termed "permanent," the plates would have to be replaced from time to time. An interval of five years has been mentioned.

Under the present system, passenger car registrations expire on Feb. 1 and operators licenses on Sept. 30. This concentrates the workload in the Motor Vehicles Bureau.

The commission proposed a staggered system to spread the work over a 12-month period. No specific plan for conversion was given.

The commission chairman, Sen. William S. Hults Jr. (R-Nassau County) would direct the implementation of many changes. He has been named by Gov. Rockefeller to become motor vehicles commissioner at the end of the present legislative session.

Other Bills

Other bills covered administrative procedures. Many changes in the report deal with record keeping and centralization of files.

The commission said in its report that it had detected a trend toward lighter automobiles and the state might start losing money unless it changed its registration fee system, now based on vehicle weight.

A flat-fee basis was recommended. The commission also recommended that any change in the fee system involve elimination of current provisions under which owners of station wagons pay higher registration fees than owners of passenger cars. Legislation to put the two types of vehicles on the same level has been introduced.

province, where eight others were shot Monday. Three former Batista soldiers were condemned to death at Colon, in west Cuba's Matanzas province.

Advices from Oriente province said five former military men were executed by a firing squad at Bayamo and five other followers of Batista were executed at Holguin.

Estimates of those in jail awaiting trial rose to between 4,000 and 6,000. Castro's forces were still hunting perhaps 3,000 fugitive soldiers, police and informers accused of carrying on the dictator's repression.

As yet, no trials or executions had been reported in Havana. Provisional President Manuel Urrutia's government continued to give assurance that newsmen would be furnished names of the accused and charges against them and invited to watch the trials. But the military courts in the provinces apparently were going ahead full steam without waiting for publicity.

High Falls Vols Plan for Year

The county fire police program was discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the High Falls Fire Company held Tuesday night at the firehall.

Members expressed a desire to attend the fire police school to be held in Port Ewen late this month.

Committees for the year were appointed. Preparation will begin next week for the annual carnival to be held on the firehouse grounds

July 31 and Aug. 1, 7 and 8.

Many projects were proposed for the coming year for improvement of the building and fire fighting efficiency.

John L. Smith Jr., president of the fire company, said that the enthusiasm of the membership indicates a banner year for the company. Membership has increased in the past year and Smith expressed hope that more new members will be added this year.

Following the business session movies and slides of Central America were shown and narrated by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Feth. Refreshments were served by the Ladies Auxiliary.

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato: "It is not a matter for the state," murmured Frank Chionchio. "It is for God to decide."

The question at issue was what was to be done with Jean Iavarone, accused of kidnapping the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chionchio 2½ hours after her birth in a Brooklyn hospital.

Happy and Grateful
To the consternation of officials neither young lawyer Chionchio nor his wife wanted to press charges against widowed Mrs. Iavarone, mother of eight children herself, after a tip to police led to the discovery of their daughter in her home, not far from Brooklyn police headquarters.

The young couple who had borne themselves with a dignity beyond hysteria during their long ordeal, were not interested in punishing the kidnaper. They were only happy and grateful they had their baby back, alive and well.

This attitude was incomprehensible to the forces of the law, who had thrown from 500 to 700 men into a ten-day-and-night, street-by-street search for the stolen infant.

To Chionchio, 28, a lawyer for the Port of New York Authority, Mrs. Iavarone, 43, was "a poor, sick woman" unable to comprehend the enormity of the crime or the suffering it had caused.

Only after considerable pressure by legal officials, during which it was pointed out that he himself could be held as a material witness in the case, did he reluctantly sign a complaint against Mrs. Iavarone.

Even then, as he left the conference, the young father murmured stubbornly: "It is not a matter for the state. It is for God to decide."

May Seem Naïve to Some
To many, the attitude of Mr. and Mrs. Chionchio must seem incredibly naïve. The instinct for revenge and retribution is overwhelmingly strong in most of us, and when someone hurts us we want to hurt them back just as soon as we are able to.

We pay lip service to the ideals of forgiveness, turning the other cheek, and doing unto one another as we would have them do unto us. But in our daily life we often don't live up to these ideals. We turn to the older law of fang and claw.

It is inconceivable, certainly for most of us, to think that Mrs. Iavarone, if proved both sane and guilty, should go unpunished by the laws of man.

Beacon of True Faith
But it is unimportant whether Mr. and Mrs. Chionchio are right or wrong. In an angry world, surely sicker and just as confused in many ways as the woman who stole their baby, their Christian charity under stress stands as a bright beacon of true faith.

Instead of retaliation, they have responded to this blow against their happiness and family security with forgiveness, a reach for understanding, and a desire that a higher judge decide the case.

It is an example of humanity at its best, as rare as it is inspiring.

Bidding Blame Goes to South

The spade grand slam represents no problem in the play. South simply ruffs the opening heart lead, draws trumps and goes after the diamonds. He has to trump one to set up the suit but he can afford it.

It also should not represent much of a problem in the bidding. Yet the very expert pair that held the hand stopped at a small slam only and each feels that the other was at fault.

South claims that his heart cue bid at the six level told his partner to bid the grand slam while North contends that his jump to five spades showed his full strength and also made it very easy for South to go to seven himself.

I have to agree with North and give South full blame. To start with South had a perfectly good opening two bid but chose to bid one diamond only.

Then after South jumped to three spades North made a really brilliant five spade bid.

South was looking right at his own hand and it should have re-

Just Look Around, You'll See It's Really True

Did you ever notice that—
The most popular household in the neighborhood, so far as the small fry are concerned, is never presided over by the neighborhood's most perfect housekeeper?

The women who talk the most usually have the least to say? There seems to be little relationship between how beautiful a wife is and how attentive her own husband is?

Spur-of-the-moment parties are often more fun than the most elaborately planned one? The women who have the most friends do the least gossiping? Husbands who try the hardest to please their mates often have the most discontented wives?

The shrewdest of men can be taken in by a woman who couldn't fool even a stupid woman for five minutes? The size and beauty of a home is no indication that it is necessarily a happy one?

The women that men regard as intelligent conversationalists are actually good listeners? A girl's popularity with boys depends more on her self-confidence than on her looks?

A woman gets more real admiration from other women for keeping her figure than for any other single accomplishments? The man who is always the life of the party usually has a bored-looking wife?

Housing Boss Is Not Worried About Critical Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's new housing boss, Norman P. Mason, will step squarely into the middle of a first-class row shaping up between Congress and the administration. He says he doesn't mind at all. Mason told a reporter today that "anyone with a little fighting spirit and red blood in his veins" should welcome the give and take that goes with presenting a controversial program to a critical Congress. That's the way democracy works, he said.

The controversy in this case: the extent of government housing programs under Eisenhower's efforts to hold down spending. Democratic critics have proposed more spending for housing.

Mason, now head of the Federal Housing Administration, was nominated by Eisenhower to head the parent Housing and Home Finance Agency. The 62-year-old Massachusetts Republican will change offices as soon as the Senate confirms his nomination. The top HHEA post is being vacated by Albert M. Cole, who made it plain to newsmen he won't be at all sad to miss this year's give and take on Capitol Hill.

Cole will become an aluminum company executive.

Graham Ordered To Rest a Month

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—An eye ailment will force Billy Graham to take a month's rest and then curtail his future activities, says the evangelist's personal physician, Dr. Kenneth Gieser of Chicago.

Dr. Gieser said Wednesday night he and Mayo Clinic specialists had confirmed that Graham was suffering from a spastic swelling of blood vessels back of the retina of the left eye, cutting sight of that eye by about 50 per cent.

Grady Wilson, a Graham associate, said the minister would take the rest ordered by the doctors after remaining here the rest of this week for further examination and treatment.

Wilson said the evangelist was still planning on the Australian revival crusade, with its start set back to Feb. 15. Where Graham would spend the month's rest has not been decided.

Two Restaurants Burn In Glens Falls Area

SOUTH GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A building that housed two restaurants was destroyed by a fire Wednesday night on the southern outskirts of this community. Firemen estimated damage at about $50,000.

No one was reported injured. The two-story frame structure housed an ice cream store and Myott's restaurant.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in the furnace room.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Ike, GOP Ready Fight Against Missile Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and top Republican spokesmen appeared ready today with a fighting defense of the administration's space, missile and security programs.

Key leaders in the new and heavily Democratic Congress already have promised searching and critical investigations into all phases of the Eisenhower defense policies and programs.

Nixon Invites Check
Vice President Richard M. Nixon has indirectly invited such an investigation, and expressed to fellow Republicans confidence that the programs will stand up under the scrutiny.

Both the President and the new Republican Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, defended the programs publicly Wednesday.

Eisenhower told a National Press Club luncheon that this country had "made remarkable progress" in the field of long-range missiles.

As to the Soviet's accomplishments in this field, he said "If we did not believe that they were somewhat ahead in certain phases, we would indeed be a little stupid, because they have been working at it for many years, and our urgent work in this field on the long-range missile has started only something like four years ago."

About the time Eisenhower was speaking, Dirksen replied in the Senate to Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), who said Monday the administration is trying "to lull people into a state of complacency not justified by the facts."

Symington was secretary of the Air Force under former President Truman, and has been a frequent critic of defense policies.

Dirksen suggested that Symington or some other Truman administration spokesman should admit publicly that for six years, "while our missile programs were virtually nonexistent the Soviet program was going forward full tilt."

This accounted for any lag behind the Soviets, Dirksen contended. He quoted statements of Dr. Werner von Braun, German Army missile expert, to support that contention.

Steps to Help, Robbed

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The automobile was beside a highway, the hood was up and a man was looking at the engine. Salesman Silas R. Smith, 40, of nearby Greece, stopped to help.

The motorist walked to Smith's car, pulled out a pistol, took Smith's wallet, which contained about $60, let the air out of a tire on Smith's car, hopped back into his own car and roared off.

Natives in the bush country of Guinea in West Africa wear practically no clothes. But, all carefully wear leather-soled sandals to protect their feet.

Niagara Milk Price

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Dairy farmers in the Niagara Frontier milk marketing area will receive a base price of $4.70 per hundredweight for milk delivered in December.

Market Administrator Joseph J. Dunn said Wednesday night the price is seven cents below that for December 1957 and eight cents above the December 1956 price.

OCS Discusses Matters Prior to Annexation Move

A lengthy discussion of fiscal matters pertaining to Woodstock School District No. 2 prior to annexation was discussed by the board of trustees of Ontario Central School District Wednesday night.

Principal John Moehle said the board would release a full statement next week following its regular meeting Monday evening.

Next Thursday evening trustees of the Ontario Central School District will participate in a pane discussion at the Woodstock school at which time they will attempt to answer any questions which may arise in connection with the school's affairs.

Members of the board of trustees of the Woodstock district at time of the recent annexation to Ontario were invited to attend the meeting last night but were unable to be present, it was reported.

Among those present were Principal Walter S. Van Wageningen of Woodstock School District No. 2; Reginald Bennett, district superintendent of schools; Frank Benson, vice president of the Orange County National Bank; Vincent G. Connelly, attorney for the Ontario district; and Stanley Haug, auditor of the Ontario district.

Trustees of the Ontario Central School district are Philip Gordon, president; Rhonda; Albert Fox Jr., Olive Bridge; Mrs. Edna Bishop, West Shokan; Edward West, Allaben; John Haggerty, Ashokan; Johan Aalto, Ashokan; Mrs. Marie Klein Shady; Harry Ostrander, Willow; and Harry Allen of Pine Hill.

Anjopa Property To Be Auctioned Here on March 2

Property of the Anjopa Paper Manufacturing Co., Inc., Napanoch, as directed by a judgment of foreclosure, will be auctioned at the court house at 11 a. m., March 2, it was learned today.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., as receiver of the Home National Bank, of Ellenville, is plaintiff against the paper company and several others. The FDIC is a federal agency which insures deposits against loss.

Signed January 9

The judgment of foreclosure and sale was signed Jan. 9. It stems from transactions between the Home National Bank of Ellenville and the paper company, formerly headed by Joseph DiCandia, 42, who in December, 1957, was sentenced to a three-year jail term as the result of misappropriations discovered at the Ellenville Bank.

William R. Rose, the bank's president received a five-year term because of misappropriations said to be more than $1,250,000.

The FDIC sum involved in the foreclosure move was reported at $855,496.04.

Both real and personal property of the plant, which, closed in December, 1957, are due to go on the block. Plant equipment and furnishings, motor vehicles and other items are due to be sold.

At the time of the sentence of DiCandia, it was said, he had been involved in the misappropriation of bank funds involving over $940,000 of overdrafts for Anjopa.

Joseph W. Burns, of New York, last spring was named receiver and trustee in bankruptcy of the paper company.

DeGaulle Hints More Elections Within Algeria

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle opened the first National Assembly of the Fifth Republic today with a pledge to work toward a political solution in Algeria through universal suffrage.

De Gaulle's generalized message, read to the Assembly by its president, Jacques Chaban Delmas, clearly implied more elections or referendums in the troubled North African territory where a rebellion has raged for four years.

Debre Lists Program

A prerequisite to the expression of universal suffrage, De Gaulle said, was the pacification and economic transformation of Algeria.

Following De Gaulle's brief speech, newly named Premier Michel Debre presented to the Assembly the program of his new government—a program supporting the Western Alliance but clearly demanding a bigger voice for France.

The deputies stood respectfully while Chaban Delmas read De Gaulle's statement.

De Gaulle called for the Assembly to put aside the bickering that weakened the old Fourth Republic and finally brought about its downfall.

"A rigorous putting in order of our affairs is absolutely necessary in all those areas which touch upon our national destiny," De Gaulle said.

The assembly was to get its first chance to discuss government policies after 7½ months of De Gaulle's one-man rule before Debre calls for a vote on his program.

The constitution of the new Fifth Republic does not require parliamentary approval of Debre's new government. He scheduled the session to hear his program out of politeness and sought the confidence vote only as a matter of principle.

No Danger of Defeat

There was no danger of Debre's program being rejected since a big majority of deputies were elected as De Gaulle supporters. And the Cabinet could be overthrown only if a majority of the Assembly had agreed in advance on a new premier.

The Assembly had met briefly last month to elect officers. No further political discussions will be allowed until the regular three-month spring session begins in April.

Others named were Connelly, Mrs. Treadwell Wilson; and West Park, Mrs. William Van Benschoten and Mrs. Richard Van Benschoten.

Last year $1,106.21 was collected in the drive throughout the township.

be eligible for parole and said he desired to return to Napanoch and "pay in full" all of his creditors.

The mortgage last May was attacked at the hearing on the grounds that it granted the FDIC preference over other creditors.

Attorney Raymond J. Mino, of Kingston, is listed as counsel for the plaintiff. Several other attorneys and law firms are listed for the various defendants involved. They include telephone and electric companies, the Town of Wawarsing, contractors and others.

Knights Templar Name Radcliffe 1959 Commander

Kidd, organist.

Richard W. Heffernan was elected trustee for three years to succeed himself.

Lamont V. Simpkins and Phillip E. Kearney acted as tellers and Paul E. Jones was in charge of the election.

The various yearly reports were read which showed the Commandery had enjoyed a successful year under the leadership of Arthur J. Jansen, retiring commander.

Preceding the meeting a ham dinner prepared by Peter Hornbeck was enjoyed by a large number of Sir Knights.

The newly elected officers will be installed at a public installation ceremony on Wednesday, Jan. 28.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Interest rates are beginning to edge up again. The increase is slow but many financial observers think the trend will continue.

One factor is that the U. S. Treasury is borrowing more money to meet the federal deficit, and must pay higher interest rates to get it.

Home Building Gains

Another is that bankers are convinced that business itself soon will be coming back to them to borrow more than it has been.

Still another is that the revival of home building is causing more demand for investment funds, thus tightening the money market.

Finally, there is President Eisenhower's announced public campaign against inflation. This will support the Federal Reserve Board's own drive to curb inflation by keeping money and credit as tight as it deems necessary.

The Treasury will pay 4 percent on its new long term bonds. This has caused existing long term government securities to edge higher in yield—that is, to slide a bit lower in price, so that today's buyer can get more from the bonds despite their fixed interest rates.

Yield on the Treasury's short term bills, which usually set the pattern for all short term borrowing, also has been edging higher.

See Demand Growing

Business has been able to finance its recovery to a large degree out of its own corporate funds. But bankers believe that as business continues to get better and management becomes more confident of future improvement, there will be more demand for funds.

Present business planning calls for little increase in spending for capital goods.

But the slack in this demand for funds is expected to be taken up by the demand for mortgage money.

The consumer is now borrowing more money to buy goods. The volume of installment loans has turned up after a long drop.

The Federal Reserve's great fear is that if money gets too plentiful the urge to speculate will grow, leading to a boom, rising prices and a final bust.

So bankers feel that all signs point to slowly rising interest rates.

Rockefeller Has Special Agent to Obtain Contracts

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Rockefeller administration's drive to improve the state's economic climate took on added impetus today.

Gov. Rockefeller, a frequent critic during his gubernatorial campaign of the state's economic position, Wednesday appointed Oren Root as a special representative to obtain more defense contracts for the state's industries.

Rockefeller said the 47-year-old New York City attorney will work with members of the state's Congressional delegation and local communities "in an effort to obtain a more equitable share of defense contracts" for the state.

Root will be named a deputy commerce commissioner as soon as a commissioner is appointed, the Republican governor said.

As deputy for interstate and federal relations, Root will be paid $16,500 a year and make his headquarters in New York City.

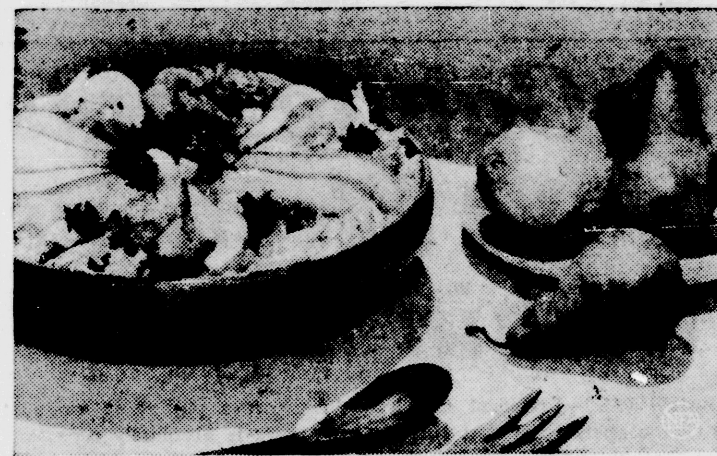

As a special representative of the governor, he will attend a defense-contract conference in Minneola Friday and another in Buffalo next week.

Root, who lives in Bedford Hills, served as chairman of a citizens committee for Rockefeller and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating in the November election campaign.

He is a member of a number of bar associations and serves as chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Narcotics Study. His great uncle, Elihu Root, was secretary of state under President Theodore Roosevelt.

AMERICAN MENU

Versatile Western Pears Are Ideal for Salads

ALMOST a "must" ingredient in a green salad is the fresh western pear. It combines with just about any other food.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's a tossed salad that offers many variations. Fresh western pears give the flavor accent. Combine with crisp salad greens, a bit of celery and a few grapefruit segments. Vary the recipe with a few salted nuts for the crunchiness quality, are use pineapple or orange segments instead of grapefruit. Or add a few slices of avocado.

Certainly the fresh western pear is one of the most versatile fruits known to man. It's difficult to think of any other food that it cannot be combined with. These fresh pears are delightful in salads with seafood, cheeses, meats, poultry, other fruits, either fresh or canned, and vegetables of all types.

Fresh western pears range from the russet-colored Bosc to the green-skinned Anjou.

Pear Green Salad Bowl

(Serves 4-6)

Two Bosc pears, lettuce, endive, celery, grapefruit.

Break lettuce and endive into salad bowl. Slice celery, section grapefruit and add to greens. Cut pears into eighths; reserve 12 segments for garnish. Cut remainder of slices into small segments. Toss salad with French dressing and garnish with pear segments.

Elegant Oranges

(Makes about 5-6 servings)

Three large oranges, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup white Port wine or white grape juice, commercial sour cream.

Cut several thin slices of yellow rind from one of oranges, and cut into very thin slivers to make 1 tablespoon. Combine this with sugar and water and simmer 5 minutes. Meanwhile, pare oranges, removing all of the white membrane. Cut oranges in 1/4-inch slices. Add wine and orange slices to syrup, and simmer about 5 minutes longer.

Chill thoroughly. Serve topped with a spoonful of commercial sour cream.

TOMORROW'S DINNER:

Poached filets of sole in Creole sauce, boiled new potatoes, canned peas, crisp rolls, butter or margarine, pear-mixed greens, chocolate walnut cake, coffee, tea, milk.

One-third of the world's ocean-going tankers are owned by oil companies.

Chairman Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, said he wants to know "What the State Department is going to do to calm Castro down before he depopulates Cuba."

Farmer Co-operatives Elect Officers Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The National Council of Farmer Co-operatives planned to elect officers and directors today at the closing session of its four-day meeting.

A panel discussion highlighted Wednesday's session. L. N. Thompson of San Leandro, Calif., told the meeting the business experts on the staffs of co-operatives were saving the farmer confusion and time needed for his work.

Thompson, general manager of Poultry Producers of Central California, said co-operatives must increase their working capital by investments, unless they want out-riders to come in and do the job at a possible loss to the farmer himself.

Gen. Marshall Stricken Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall was stricken ill today and was taken to the Ft. Bragg Army hospital. He was reported resting comfortably.

Pentagon officials said that the former Army chief of staff, secretary of state and secretary of defense, felt ill upon awaking today at his winter home in Pinehurst, N.C.

Col. Merrill Powell, a Ft. Bragg medical officer, was summoned and decided to remove the veteran soldier and statesman to the hospital for observation.

The seizure was informally described as a "spasm" of the sort sometimes associated with a mild stroke.

DETROIT (AP)—The Irish vote is heavy in suburban Roseville. With this in mind, Roseville's school board is going to change the date of an important school tax election.

Cashen, himself an Irishman, said the board inadvertently set the election for March 17, St. Patrick's Day, requiring the closing of all bars under election law.

Jury Launches Kidnap Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—A grand jury started investigation today of kidnapping charges against Jean Iavarone in the 10-day abduction of Lisa Rose Chionchio.

The first witnesses called were personnel from the hospital where the child was stolen.

Asst. Dist. Atty. J. Kenneth McCabe said Wednesday a kidnapping indictment would be sought, adding "and we have evidence to back it up."

Officials previously were reported as making the complaint against Mrs. Iavarone one of endangering the life and health of an infant.

Lisa's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chionchio, have been reluctant to prosecute the 43-year-old defendant.

Lisa disappeared from St. Peter's Hospital in Brooklyn when she was 2½ hours old. She was found last Sunday night in Mrs. Iavarone's Brooklyn apartment, alive and well.

Mrs. Iavarone has steadfastly denied she took the infant from the hospital. She contended the child was hers, delivered alone Jan. 2. Authorities said medical examination ruled this out.

Mayor Suspends Police Officer Over Letter

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Mayor Donald B. Bellinger suspended a city police lieutenant yesterday after the policeman wrote a letter to the state asking whether the mayor had been convicted for watering milk.

Bellinger said the lieutenant, Fred K. Komornik, was insubordinate. He suspended Komornik for five days without pay, pending a hearing.

The Common Council's police committee, composed of Republicans, will consider the suspension and charges tonight. Bellinger is a Democrat.

Bellinger said Komornik wrote last Oct. 25 to Daniel J. Carey, then state agriculture commissioner. The letter said Bellinger was believed to have been convicted several years ago for watering milk produced on his farm, the mayor reported.

Natural Waistline Is Restored by Leading Designer

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—If you are fond of name-dropping, designer Adele Simpson suggests that you drop such names as "holiday," "resort," "spring" and "fall" from your fashion vocabulary and choose your clothes for year-round wear.

To prove it can be done, the small but mighty Adele, now generally considered America's best-known designer, shows a collection of round-the-clock the round-the-calendar fashions which will be sold in stores this spring, but which will be worn in many climates.

Outstanding in the group are costumes consisting of loose, full-length coats, often reversible and lined to match a slim silk dress. This costume is shown in both day and evening versions. But the outfit that is worn for daytime converts to the cocktail hour simply by removing or reversing the coat.

Like most of the New York couture, previewing their spring collections this week for the benefit of the national fashion press, Mrs. Simpson restores the natural waistline in most of her designs, and in the others provides a "do-it-yourself" belt which may be adjusted high, low or in the middle, according to the whim of the wearer. Wherever the belt may be placed, however, the clothes all are shaped to conform with the natural lines of the figure.

DAR Evening Group Hears Lecture on Lafayette Baton

During the regular meeting of the Evening Group of Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution on Monday, Jan. 12, in the Chapter House, an impressive ceremony occurred following the usual covered dish supper.

Frederick Snyder, noted speaker and lecturer, and National Custodian of the Lafayette Baton reenacted and explained the ceremony of tapping of famous personages.

Prior to this, the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf Street, gave the dedicatory prayer to the Flag of the United States of America used with the Lafayette Baton. This beautiful emblem of the U. S. with its spun bronze standard and bell-brass base donated by Elton Sanford has now received dedication by clergymen of two faiths, Jewish and Protestant. The Catholic dedication will be given later this year in Philadelphia when a noted Catholic surgeon is to be tapped with the Baton.

It is a great honor for Wiltwyck Chapter to have been selected by Mr. Snyder for one of these three dedications. At the Jewish Dedication at Grossinger's this past year, a high honor cadet from West Point monitored the Flag and there were 1800 persons present.

The candlelighting during the reenactment was done by Mrs. Walter T. Tremper, Regent, for the Declaration of Independence; by Miss Isabel Herdman, chairman of the Evening Group, for the Constitution; by Mrs. Adam H. Porter, State Director, for the Bill of Rights. The candles lighted at this time were the same ones used when Frederick Ecker, board chairman of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was tapped with the Baton a few weeks ago.

Forty-three people have received this signal honor and when the number reaches 201, the Baton will be taken to Washington and the Flag to Paris for permanent display.

Men's Fashion World

As the curtains part on the spring fashion panorama this week, it is immediately apparent that the news from the men's fashion world is for once more dramatic than that which stems from the distaff fashion market.

While women's clothes are headed back to greater conservatism—away from any "new look"—and toward more fitted waistlines and classic styles—the men are making news with a completely new silhouette known as the "continental."

This new suit styling, with its most elegant, custom look, has affected all men's apparel for spring, a market check shows. One of the country's largest manufacturers of men's clothing, calls it the most important style change in men's wear in 10 years and one which will eventually affect all the fashions a man wears.

It is marked by a higher, squarer shoulder line and a shorter jacket with cutaway front, peaked lapels and side vents. The trousers are pleated, tapered and cuffless. The total effect of the new suit style is to make a man look taller, shapelier and more elegant.

Suiting colors are still on the dark side, but they aren't plain. Unusual, but conservative patterns and interesting color effects through patterns give a new look of richness to these fabrics. Many of them are said to offer performance miracles. Suits that look like silk go through the washing machine as easily as shirts.

The suit that washes like a shirt makes news again this year, this time in a fine, lightweight worsted. It is as light and washable as any other garment a man wears for summer. One designer has one eye squarely on jet travel these days and is featuring a "ten-month" suit they have actually traveled around the world. The exclusive, special weave of the suiting fabric has been proven to be comfortable in almost every extreme of temperature. In addition, it has been given special wrinkle-resistant qualities that make it ideal for travel. The "odd" jacket—a lightweight, sophisticated and washable version of the old-fashioned sport jacket—is a top fashion item this spring, too, and they are showing a big collection of cotton jackets that many a woman would covet for her own wardrobe. Ivy League clothing, although overshadowed in the news by the Continental, is still very much alive as fashion and comprises a big part of the fashion picture for spring.

ON HIS MOTHER'S INVITATION

Dear Mrs. Post: My boy friend is stationed in an Army camp quite a distance from here. Since his induction into the Army six months ago I have not seen him, although he writes to me several times a week. Recently he wrote me saying that his parents are planning to visit him soon and would like to know if I would like to accompany them. Even though we live in the same neighborhood, I do not know them well enough to do more than bid them the time of day should we meet somewhere. I am not at all certain of the propriety or, as it may be impropriety of my going. I have asked my parents' opinion which is definitely negative. I would value a third, objective, view.

Answer: If your boy friend's mother invites you to go with her on the trip to camp, there would be no impropriety in your accepting.

Widowed Mother of a Jr.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me how to address a letter correctly to a widow friend of mine who is living with her married son and his wife? This son was named for his father but has dropped the junior from his name since his father's death, thus leaving two Mrs. John Smiths. As it is socially incorrect to address a widow as Mrs. Jane Smith, how can I designate the letter is for the elder Mrs. Smith without using her given name?

Answer: You address her as Mrs. John Smith, Sr.

A Secretary Acknowledges An Introduction

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a secretary in a small office. My employer always introduces me to any visiting relatives or friends who come to the office to see him. Is it my place to rise and offer my hand upon being introduced? I am in my early forties.

Answer: You do not get up and offer your hand. You simply incline your head and say "How do you do."

Twenty serving questions and answers are included in Mrs. Post's booklet No. 504, "The Etiquette of Table Setting." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

At The Markets

Retail food prices in New York City continue to decline slightly. The latest report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that food prices in the City in November were down by 0.1 per cent from October. Lower prices for all food except dairy products accounted for the decline.

FRUITS—Under the impact of heavier shipments from Florida, juice orange prices have declined and are now priced near last year's level, according to the New York City Department of Markets. Grapefruit is priced below last year as are pears. Bananas and apples are selling at the same prices as a year ago.

VEGETABLES—Prices advanced slightly during the past week, but are generally less expensive than a year ago. Mushrooms are in heavy supply and very reasonable in price. Potatoes, lettuce, cabbage, carrots and celery are all in abundant supply and low priced. Among the canned vegetables, tomatoes, tomato products and peas are plentiful.

THE MEAT BILL

Meat is the biggest item in the family food bill. The red meats—beef, pork, lamb, and veal—make up 25 per cent of all food expenditures, according to a survey of 6,000 homemakers made in the spring of 1955 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

For the families interviewed beef was the most popular meat, making up 41 per cent of all meat consumed. Among the kinds of beef, nearly one-third was consumed as steaks, 28 per cent as roasts, and a big 30 per cent as ground beef. Loins and chops, ham, and bacon were about equally popular pork cuts. Veal, lamb, and the variety meats each made up 3 per cent of the total meat consumed. The other 12 per cent was consumed as luncheon meats.

Northeasterners were heavy eaters of lamb and veal. Lamb consumption was highest among city dwellers in the Northeast where families ate three times as much lamb as Northeastern farm families. Veal consumption for Northeastern urbanites was also the highest in the country.

Meat consumption was affected by nationality, region, residence, size of family, and other factors, but the most important was family income. Higher income families:

Ate more meat per person but not a great deal more.

Ate more beef, lamb, and veal per person.

Ate no more pork.

Ate more expensive kinds and cuts of meat.

Paid higher prices for the same cuts of meat. Fish—Cold, windy weather has cut down on fishing operations in local waters, but cod, flounder, and porgies are in fair supply. Several species of fish from Southern waters are in good supply, including Southern mackerel.

Eschman-Frangello Wedding Announced; Ceremony Takes Place at St. Mary's

Miss Carol Marie Eschman, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Eschman of Saugerties, was wed to Ronald E. Frangello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Frangello of 189 North Street, this city, Saturday, Jan. 11, at 2 p. m.

The double ring ceremony took place at St. Mary's Church. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly. White gladioli and pompons decorated the church for the occasion. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Richard Eschman. She wore a white gown of rose point lace over bridal satin styled with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt of lace panels and tulle tiers swept back into a circular court train. The French illusion veil was caught to a bridal crown of starched lace embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The bride carried a white mother of pearl prayer book with a white orchid and streamers of Stephanotis.

Miss Jean Frangello, the bridegroom's sister, attended the bride as her maid of honor. She wore a powder blue gown styled along princess lines and a matching crown. Miss Frangello carried a crescent bouquet of Rubrum lilies.

Best man was James Gallo of East Kingston. Ushers included Frank Bonavita of 12 Cordis Street, and Steve Leoce of 187 North Street, both cousins of the bridegroom.

More than 120 guests were entertained at a reception given at the Tropical Inn, Port Ewen. The bride, who was graduated from Kingston High School, wore a powder blue suit with black accessories and an orchid, when she left for her wedding trip to Lake George. Her husband, an alumnus of Saugerties High School and employed by the Hutton company.

Mr. and Mrs. Frangello will reside at 189 North Street when they return.

Helfert, Wolsen Head M-WC Vols

John J. Helfert of Malden was elected president, and William R. Wolsen of West Camp succeeded to chief of Malden-West Camp Fire Company at the annual meeting of the volunteers Tuesday night at West Camp fire station.

Helfert, a life member of the company replaces Charles Teetsel of Malden who served during last year. As assistant chief last year, Wolsen moved up to head the line officers. He replaces Recording Secretary Harold W. Bennett who became trustee for the one year term.

Line officers elected were William DeBekker of West Camp, vice-president; Fred Pesce of Katsbaan reelected treasurer; Bennett of Malden reelected recording secretary; Carl Heese of West Camp renamed corresponding secretary, and Cyril Myers of West Camp, sergeant-at-arms.

Charles Daley of Saugerties and former chief Valmore F. Carpenter of West Camp were elected as representative to the firemen's associations with Luther Emerick of West Camp as alternate. Emerick was also reelected historian. John Simon of West Camp was named trustee for three years and Bernard E. McCutcheon, fire district treasurer was appointed temporary chaplain.

Line officers elected were Emmett Voder of Malden, assistant chief; Peter Strich, captain of the Malden station; Stanley Carle, lieutenant, and Clarence E. Gardner, Malden first driver.

John J. Prendergast was reelected captain of the West Camp station; Luther Emerick, lieutenant, and Harry L. Moore, first driver. Cyril Myers was named tank truck driver.

Retiring chief Bennett was presented with the traditional watch from the company by President Teetsel.

By action of the company the payment of dues will be waived for the president, vice-president, corresponding secretary, treasurer and building fund financial secretary during their term of office. The action did not include the recording secretary who receives compensation for his duties from the company.

Prior to the election Chief Bennett reported that company officers will inspect and file a report on the new Saugerties Junior-Senior Central High School, located in the fire district. The inspection is scheduled next week. A similar inspection is contemplated for the Malden School.

Samuel Wolven of Saugerties was declared the monthly award winner.

During a discussion on the recent fire at the county highway department barn at Katsbaan, President Teetsel presented documentary proof from a telephone company report that the company did not refuse to respond to the alarm. He said that one of the company's volunteers reported the fire and the company responded after notifying Mutual Aid. Centerville Fire Company and C. A. Lynch Fire Company of the Saugerties Department also responded. Discussion brought out that Saxton Fire Company had been alerted inadvertently and the person receiving the call advised the party that the fire was in the Centerville District. The territorial controversy ensued as the fire bordered on the lines of the three volunteer companies in that area.

President Teetsel reported that a $25 cash donation had been received with a Christmas card for company use. The donation came from an anonymous contributor in Centerton.

C of C Elects Banks President

Myron G. Banks was elected president of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night at the annual meeting of the group at the Flamingo Restaurant.

Banks, last year's first vice-president, replaces George E. Thornton who served in 1958. Thornton was elected to the board of directors.

Others named were Dr. Irving Dreishpoon, first vice-president; former executive secretary Donald Beckert, second vice-president, and Joseph Bosco, treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were William Kelly and Willett Overbaugh.

Banks announced the appointment of John Kaminski as executive secretary. In other committee appointments, Banks listed the following:

Hudson-Chapman committee, Alex. Osina; merchants, Raymond Ruby; Assemblage Day, Nathan Aaron; Christmas street lighting, Joseph Bosco; Christmas lighting fund campaign chairman retiring president Thornton; social activities, Mrs. Joan Feldmann; Mrs. Muriel Kaminski and Mrs. Vincent Amrod.

In a move designed to place the Chamber meeting night on the same evening with Saugerties Lions Club, the meeting night was temporarily changed to the second Monday of the month.

During a discussion on the change, various members pointed out that a majority of the Lions are Chamber members and that the Lions supper meeting is usually adjourned before the start of the Chamber meeting.

It was brought out in discussion that all members whether present or not should have an opportunity to vote on the question of the change. A post card poll of the members was suggested.

A permanent change of meeting night will necessitate amending the by-laws of the organization.

President Thornton presented citations for the most attractive store windows during the Christmas season to Glenford W. Genthner of Corner Bakery, first; David Halpert of Halpert Jewelers, second, and Evan Boardman for Beadles Pharmacy, third. The Flower Garden and Amrods Department Store received honorable mention. The citations were inscribed ceramic plaques.

Dr. Dreishpoon as chairman of the golf course committee reported he had, a conference with Harry E. Eckhoff eastern representative of the National Golf Foundation, and the feasibility of establishing a public golf course in Saugerties was discussed. Eckhoff's report was favorable, he said, making arrangements to have Eckhoff at tend the next meeting of the Chamber to show sound color slides on how a community golf course can be accomplished. He said that about 100 to 115 acres with sufficient water supply was needed for a course.

Outgoing President Thornton gave a detailed report on the Christmas street lighting fund campaign. He reported that only $912 had been contributed and the fund was $117.94 short to meet this year's expenses. This does not include the cost of electricity, he added. He said the Chamber contemplated adding an extra string of lights on Market Street near Main and on Partition Street.

Herbert Lachmann, Christmas lighting chairman in his final report said that contributions to the lighting fund must continue in order to add more strings each year and maintain the equipment in current use. He pointed out that the recent wind storm did considerable damage to some strings.

In the annual report read by Joseph Bosco, acting secretary, activities and promotions during the year were listed and a total of 101 members were indicated on the roster. The report stated that 23 new members were added in the past year.

Will Use Barges To Raise Tug at Reliance Dock

Final preparations were in progress today for the raising, possibly tomorrow, of the Margaret Feeney, a tugboat of the Reliance Marine Transportation & Construction Corp., which sank in the Rondout Creek, off Abell Street, Dec. 13.

Two Reliance dry-cargo, steel barges will be used in the attempt to bring up the tug, which went down after apparent damage by shifting ice.

The barges are being sunk deep beside the tug pumped inside. It is planned to bring up the tug when the water is pumped out. Cables and I-beams were attached to hold the sunken craft to the tug.

Bernard A. Feeney, manager of Reliance, said it was hoped that preliminary preparations would be completed today so that actual raising of the boat could start sometime Friday, possibly in the morning.

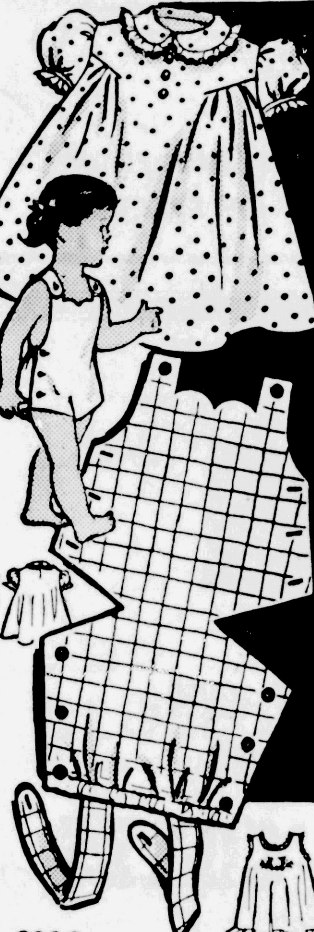

The tug sank in the creek at a point not far from the Abell Street office of the company.

Reminder Is Given On Discharging Of Any Air Gun

A reminder was issued today after injury of a 13-year-old downtown boy, that the discharge of any type air rifle or air gun is prohibited in the city.

Sgt. Carl J. Janasiewicz, noting that Allen Peck, of 18 Mill Street, suffered a finger injury in his discharge of an air gun owned by his brother, advised cooperation of parents and others to prevent further such mishaps in the city.

Those who know of such guns in the possession of youngsters, he suggested, should see that they are brought to police headquarters.

Young Peck was treated at Kingston Hospital this morning for an injury of the third finger, left hand, which had been struck by an air-gun pellet in a mishap as he discharged the gun.

MESSAGE FROM LUNIK — Now - Silent Rocket's Last Reports May Yield Priceless Information

Cosmic mysteries, which can be solved only partially by man's telescopes, may be unraveled by the newest Soviet rocket, "Lunik." Decoded messages from the outskirts of space could describe the moon's gravity, heat of the sun and radiation in space—expanding knowledge on such controversial subjects as these:

SUN'S TEMPERATURE—Some optical measurements reveal a surface temperature on the sun of about 5,000 degrees, while others indicate millions of degrees. Although signals from Lunik ceased while the rocket was still far from the sun, it may have recorded information that will throw light on this question.

SPACE FLIGHT—The belt of cosmic radiation around the earth, first discovered by American scientists, may be further investigated by the Soviet rocket instruments. Intense radiation could hamper future manned space travel. Measurements of the moon's radioactivity also could assist in revealing its age.

FLYING SAUCERS—Increased information on the sun's energy processes could explain sightings of unidentified flying objects. If the rocket can establish the existence of unique particles of energy and X-rays from the sun, "flying saucers" seen on earth may be shown up as only unique atmospheric tricks of solar origin.

BIRTH OF THE MOON—If the moon is found to have a weak magnetic field it would support the theory that it was torn loose from the earth's surface billions of years ago, giving it only sparse iron deposits. High gravity would indicate larger metal content and suggest it had beginnings separate from earth.

"EMPTY" SPACE—Recent rocket shots have indicated that space is not entirely vacant, but has density. The theory that the planets were formed from condensed gases may gain support as Lunik and later devices reach out millions of miles, sending back a description of man's most challenging frontier—space.

Hopes for New Look On Forest Taxation

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson says the Rockefeller administration hopes it "can take a new look at the problem" of forest taxation in New York State.

It is a "nettlesome problem," he said Wednesday night in a dinner speech before the Empire State Forest Products Assn.

Members of the association have contended that unfavorable taxtion has discouraged long-term investments in forest land for timber-growing purposes. They control more than a million acres of timber land in the state.

The mayor was visited Wednesday by the delegation from the milk, milk products and ice cream industries.

The delegation's attorney, Samuel J. Cohen, said the proposed revisions would permit a reduction of the minimum butterfat content of milk from 3.3 per cent to 3 per cent.

The proposed revisions, Cohen said, would permit milk and milk products to be produced out of the city under lower health standards. He said this would encourage some of the industry to move out of the city to places where it could operate under less rigid standards and at lower labor costs.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Smoked ham and chuck roast are top candidates in the housewife's "what-should-I-buy" sweepstakes this week.

Wholesale prices of beef on the hook and steers on the hoof remain high.

Chuck Roast Good Buy
Chuck roast is the housewife's first line of defense in the battle against high meat prices. Similar items appearing as the feature attraction this week are chuck steak, ground beef and stew meat. Specials in pork include the smaller picnic hams, pork butt and pork loin.

Meat price changes this week are scattered and irregular — up a cent or two here, down a cent or two there. Eggs are off 1 to 4 cents a dozen in many places.

Vegetables Features

Spinach, endive, escarole, radishes and cooking greens also are outstanding buys. Other good bets are mushrooms, onions, celery, lettuce, carrots and sweet potatoes. Pepper, eggplant and snap beans are rated fairly good buys. Squash and tomatoes are in light supply and more expensive. New crop cabbage also is somewhat higher.

Look for continuing bargains in apples and Florida citrus. Limes, navel oranges, lemons and pears are good buys, along with Emperor and Almeria grapes.

Foul Play Not Ruled Out in Death of Woman

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — The body of a woman, clad only in a pink slip, was found Wednesday on the blood-covered basement floor of her fashionable home.

Police said the woman, Mrs. Evelyn Schackelford, 40, of 730 Parker St., had been dead for at least 36 hours. Her husband Ralph, a sales executive, discovered the body on his return from a business trip.

May Have Fallen

The woman may have fallen and hit her head, police said. But they did not rule out the possibility of foul play and scheduled an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Police said Mrs. Schackelford's head was bashed in, and blood marks were found in her bedroom.

Neighbors found a cellar screen and window unlatched. Nothing was missing from the home, however.

No Signs of Struggle

Lt. Joseph Kinney, in charge of the homicide squad, said there were no signs of a struggle.

Schackelford told police he left Newark Jan. 5 for a business trip that took him through most of Vermont and into Montreal.

He said he flew in Wednesday from Plattsburgh, N. Y., after his wife failed to appear there for a prearranged meeting.

Gotham Firemen Award Mahoney Life Membership

NEW YORK (AP) — The first life membership ever awarded by the Uniformed Fire Officers Assn. of the New York City Fire Department has gone to State Sen. Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo.

Mahoney, Republican majority leader of the Senate, was given a gold membership card Wednesday night at a ceremony at a meeting of the association.

Mahoney, son of a Buffalo fire captain killed in the line of duty, told the 250 fire officers present: "As long as I'm around in Albany or in public life, the cause of the firemen will always be espoused by me."

"I always have had respect and admiration for the work you do."

Eugene Berardi Named Twaalfskill President

EUGENE BERARDI

Harry Kapreilian, Frank Campochiaro Also Are Elected

Eugene Berardi has been elected president of The Twaalfskill Club, Inc., for 1959. He succeeds James L. Quinn, Kingston publisher.

Berardi, who is secretary of the road construction firm operated by his father, James J. Berardi, has held several important posts at Twaalfskill in recent years.

Harry Kapreilian, manager-secretary of the Charles Ramsey Corp. of Kingston, has been elected vice-president.

Frank Campochiaro, Kingston Attorney, is the new secretary-treasurer.

A graduate of Kingston High school, Berardi studied at Syracuse University before joining his father's firm. He has held the post of House committee chairman and was for several years chairman of the Entertainment committee at Twaalfskill. In 1958 he served as vice-president and was extremely active in many club projects.

Excellent Player

A 10-handicap player, Berardi is ranked among the brighter prospects at The Twaalfskill.

He is married to the former Cynthia Van Gonsie and they have one child, 18-month-old Eugene Berardi Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Berardi reside at Kingtop Road. Kapreilian, the new vice-president, also has been active on several club committees and was chairman of Entertainment in 1958. Campochiaro was Handicap committee chairman in 1958 and was responsible for a complete revision of the Twaalfskill handicaps. He also was responsible, as chairman of the By-Laws Committee, for revision of the club by-laws and publication of the by-laws in pamphlet form.

President Berardi is expected to announce his working committees for 1959 in the near future.

Neil Memorial To Old Archie

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Moore gets up once more tonight to accept the Edward J. Neil award from the Boxing Writers Assn. as the "fighter of the year" for 1958.

Old Archie, whose age had been estimated at 42, 45 and 49, won the award because of the way he kept getting up the night of Dec. 18 in Montreal. That was the night Yvon Durelle dropped him three times before Archie finished the Canadian in the 11th round.

The world light heavyweight champion, equipped with a Castro-type beard, will be flanked by his manager, Jack (Doc) Kearns who also is being honored.

Moore gets the Neil award, named in honor of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed in 1938 while serving as a war correspondent in Spain. Kearns gets an "in appreciation" award for his many interesting years in boxing.

Celtic Hex Haunting The Knicks

By THE ASSOCIATE PRESS

There is a question whether Boston Coach Red Auerbach said "any" or "many" after his Celtics had dropped their first two National Basketball Assn. games of the season with the New York Knicks. But anyway you look at it, the balding coach was right.

Some had him saying "They won't beat us any more." Auerbach's version was: "They won't beat us in many more."

"Any" looked today to be nearer correct, for after Wednesday night's 123-112 triumph, the Celtics can boast of six straight victories over the Knicks.

As they romped to their eighth straight victory the Celtics pulled away in the second period of the doubleheader at Boston.

Bill Russell and Tommy Heinsohn each scored 25 points for the Celtics. Ken Sears led the New Yorkers with 24.

In the first game, the Syracuse Nationals dined the Philadelphia Warriors 119-104. And at Detroit, the St. Louis Hawks wined their Western Division lead to 10½ games with a 114-108 decision over the second-place Pistons.

Togo Palazzi paced the Nats with 24 points.

The Pistons pulled within three points of the Hawks with only a minute left but Bob Pettit came up with three points to wrap up St. Louis' victory. Cliff Hagan paced the decision leaders with 28 points.

The 35 Club moved into a tie for second place with Byrnes and Accord. Minute Car Wash holds the top spot with a 5-0 record.

Maroon Matmen Score 19-18 Victory in Otisville Matches

Coach Ken Brown's Kingston High School wrestling squad defeated Otisville Training School, 19-18, yesterday afternoon to capture five of nine matches at Kate Walton field house.

The Maroon's Larry Brown won his 119-pound class opener when he pinned Otisville's Jesse Ballard in 3:43 to put Kingston in front five points, and in the 131-pound event James Brown (O) decisioned Bob Barnett, 8-2. Kingston bounced back to gain three more points when John Metrick (140) decisioned James Green 7-2 before Bryan Shokan (K) was pinned in the 147-pound event at 3:13.

Steve Palen (156) and Ed Pfeifer (167), both of the Maroon, won their matches. Palen decisioned Charles Lopez, 3-2, and Pfeifer held Bart Albertini by the same margin.

Also in the 167-pound class, Kingston's Maurice Chouquette pinned Al Continnelli in 2:45, the decisive match in the competition.

In an open event, Otisville's Stanley Lentz pinned the Maroon's Bob Jenkins in 4:34 and in the unlimited class Tim Stout bested Milan Pece of Kingston in 5:01.

The Maroon wrestling squad travels to Red Hook on Jan. 23 for their next match. Phil Brown was the official at yesterday's matches.

FIGURING A WAY OUT—Kingston's Steve Palen and Charles Lopez of Otisville seem locked in an insoluble tangle during their 154-pound match at Kate Walton field house yesterday afternoon, but Palen figured his way out, and went on to decision Lopez, 3-2, as the Maroon wrestlers won, 19-18, (Freeman photo).

Y Five Upsets Katsbaan in Exhibition Tilt

Katsbaan won a forfeited game from Backs last night at the YMCA and apparently should have quit while they were ahead for in an exhibition the Y Five bombed the perennial winners, 74-63.

A tremendous team effort, paced by Joe Klonowski and Dick Boice spurred the team to a win over the Class "A" kingpins.

Dick Terlingen, who officiated the first two games in league competition, showed little signs of fatigue as he bounced back to play an important part in the upset. His work on the boards paved the way for many of the fast-breaking scores.

Frank Koenig with 20 and Ronnie Scheffel with 18 led the Katsbaan attack while Klonowski and Boice canned 20 apiece in the upset.

Main St., Amrods Win Over 30 League Games

Mickey Kyff racked up 14 points in the first half as Main St. Store romped to a 43-20 victory over Siena Alumni in the Over 30 League last night.

In the companion piece, Saugerties Amrods throttled Kendall Oil, 46-28, and that, too, was decided in the first half as Boo Schaffer and Fred Seither broke loose.

Kyff scored a total of 22 points which prompted the league historian to boldly declare that his performance overshadowed Andy Murphy "who retired for the night."

His accomplishment was doubly historic, Kyff became the first player to score 20 points in the league this season.

Schaffer dumped in 12 and Seither 10 in the Amrod's victory while George Glaser led Kendalls with 10.

The Kingston Colonials

***A Baseball Legend (1921-27)***

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

If 1921 was the year of organization for the Kingston Colonials, then 1922 was the year of expansion. No less than 37 players, including 11 pitchers wore the Colonial uniform.

Three bright new stars were among the importations—Big Bill Shay of Newburgh, Bobby Coyle of Saugerties and Harry Harper, ex-New York Yankee pitcher. All three were to make valuable contributions to the Colonial legend.

Many of the Original Thirteen began to drift from the boxscores, with only Matty Deegan, Bill Schwab, Culliton and Jack Robins destined to survive the countless changes in playing personnel.

Any visiting player who went well against the Colonials invariably received an invitation from Manager Harry Schrick to join the team. Many of them did—like Charlie Terpenning of Newburgh, Freddie Dahn of Poughkeepsie and others.

The 1922 season also saw the beginning of the fabulous rivalry between the Colonials and the Rhinebeck Astors. The Colonials played Tannersville 7 games, winning 3 and losing 4. They lost two of three to Red Hook, won the odd game in a thrilling seven-game series with the Rhinebeck Astors. They won two of three from the Parker Axles.

Won 47 Games
The 1922 Colonials played 63 games, winning 47, losing 15 and playing one tie, an 11-inning 2-2 standoff with the All-Nationals of New York. And during this season they suffered one of the worst drubbings in their history, a 16-1 shellacking by the Green Island Knights of Columbus on July 6, 1922, at Green Island in a game that was supposed to be easy pickings.

Manager Schrick imported a bevy of college stars through the years but, from the opening pitch of the 1921 season through the last game, Matty Deegan was one of the club's superlatives.

batsmen. He was a solid line drive hitter, batted well over 300 for his

Colonial career and never suffered in comparison to the big names on the local roster.

Deegan led the club in hitting in 1922 with a robust .363 average in 66 games. He collected 83

hits in 229 times at bat against the best independent pitching in the state. Bobby Coyle was second at .356, with 89 hits and Jack

Robins third at .317.

Culliton Wins 25

Bud Culliton was the workgames and losing only 4. He had autoful control and pitched many a game without yielding a single pass. Bill McAuliffe won 12

Bud Culliton outpitching the

McDermott. The Colonials were outlit, 12-7, but Culliton was superb in the pinches, despite the fact he permitted the in-walks. A crowd of 2500 was on hand.

The Colonials got to Beecher quickly, scoring four runs in the first inning on a couple of errors,

two sacrifice hits, a single by Deegan and Jack Robins' double.

Arlington Takes Highland, 67-56

Arlington High School racked up its seventh basketball victory yesterday afternoon when Coach Fritz Jordan's squad romped to a 67-56 victory over Highland.

Arlington, with a 7-2 record, was never headed in the non-league performance and the defeat was Highland's seventh against a lone win.

Jordan, whose squad faces Kingston on the Dutchess County court Friday evening, never had to press his operatives and was offered an opportunity to rest them for a total half. His first line played only the first and third periods.

Anderson canned 18 for Arlington while Cavo and Moyer divided 20 points between them. Lillimaggi and Penny bucketed 18 points apiece for Coach Bob Relyea's team, but they were insufficient to overcome Arlington's quick first-period splash when they jumped to a 15-point bulge.

The Arlington reserves were contained in the final period as they scored only nine points, but the first team had the game already packaged by that time.

OK Cronin For Prexy

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Joe Cronin, one of baseball's most celebrated stars, unofficially has been crowned president of the American League.

An American League screening committee agreed Wednesday that the 32-year-old Cronin should succeed Will Harridge as president of the major league's junior circuit, effective Feb. 1. Harridge, 73, resigned last month.

Cronin is general manager of the Boston Red Sox.

His former acceptance of the league presidency is expected to be approved at a club owners meeting in New York Jan. 31.

Cronin met with the screening committee. He said he was not interested in becoming league president unless certain conditions were met. They were:

The conditions included moving the league office from Chicago to Boston, but retaining a branch office in Chicago.

The branch office would be in charge of Will Harridge, who resigned as league president after 25 years in office.

Still to be confirmed at the Jan. 31 meeting was Cronin's request for a five-year contract at Harridge's salary—$50,000 a year with a $15,000 expense account.

It Was Up In Air — Even Then

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Except for the mythical winged Pegasus, the aerial transportation of race horses is supposed to be a development of this modern age of airplanes.

But according to an air lines' cargo research, horses have been sailing about the atmosphere for 160 years. In 1798, Pierre Testu-Brissy made a balloon ascent in Paris astride a horse specially trained to remain calm in flight.

The way thoroughbreds even today sometimes throw fits in planes could profitably take a lesson from M. Testu-Brissy's training of his pioneer Pegasus.

DeWitt's Caddies Drop Decision to Spada Sport Shop

Terry Corkery was a real opportunist at the foul line in the YMCA "C" loop last night and his jump shot on a rebound enabled Spada's Sport Shop to score a 45-43 win over DeWitt's Caddies.

It was the first defeat in six starts for the Caddies and the crusher was applied in the final seconds as Corkery stepped to the charity stripe.

With six seconds remaining on a 1-1 foul situation, Corkery made the first to tie the game at 43-43. He missed the bonus but rebounded beautifully and scored on a jump shot from the line and DeWitt's failed to score on the last effort in the final four seconds.

The Caddies are now 5-1 on the season while Spada's have a 4-2 record. Bill Haber led the losers with 16 and Richy Marcus followed with 12.

Corkery hooped 19 and William McDermott 18 for the winning club. McDermott scored eight important points in the final period.

Tar Heels Edge Pact

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

A kid from Pittsburgh clicked on a layup off a pretty pass from a kid from Brooklyn, then another Brooklyn crewcut flipped in two free throws...all within 22 seconds.

It wiped out a top-notch performance by two boys from Philadelphia, two from scattered points in Indiana, and another from Dorchester, Mass.

An all-star game?

Nope, just a neighborhood brawl in Raleigh, N.C. Wednesday night as North Carolina whipped top-ranked North Carolina State 72-68 in an overtime college basketball thriller.

Coaches Frank McGuire and Ev Case, a couple of leading proponents of interstate travel, had themselves another windy while 13,000 watched at Raleigh's Reynolds Coliseum.

Mild Spell Over

Cold, Snow Move Into Central U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather, with cold and snow, spread from the northern Rockies into the midcontinent today, ending a brief spell of fairly mild weather.

The arctic air covered the Northern and Central Plains and the upper and mid-Mississippi Valley. It headed eastward and was expected to cover most areas, excluding the eastern seaboard and Southeast states.

Drifts Pile Up

Snow accompanied the outbreak of cold along the eastern slopes of the Rockies, with falls in eastern Colorado, Wyoming and western Nebraska. Highways west of Denver were closed. Gusty winds swirled the snow, cutting visibility. Drifts nearly two feet deep were reported in the Golden, Colo. area and a foot deep in Cheyenne, Wyo. Four inches of snow was indicated in the region. Lighter falls were reported in the Upper Mississippi Valley and in the Lake Superior region.

Temperatures dropped sharply as the icy air moved into the Northern Plains, with below zero readings in North Dakota and Montana.

The colder air dipped as far south as Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Wet Over Wide Areas

Wet weather prevailed in wide areas from the Rockies eastward to the Atlantic Coast. The major belt of precipitation extended from Missouri and Arkansas northeastward through the Ohio Valley and lower Great Lakes region. Rain fell in most areas, with snow near Lakes Erie and Ontario.

In other parts of the country, skies were mostly cloudy in the Pacific Northwest and Southern Plains and fair to partly cloudy in other areas.

In contrast to the cold in the northern areas, considerable warmer air spread into the eastern Ohio Valley and lower Great Lakes district. Rain was reported in wide areas in Eastern sections.

Puget Sound is the nearest American gateway to the ports of Asia.

IBM CLUB HAS INSTALLATION DINNER

Leading figures at the third annual installation dinner of the Kingston IBM Club held Wednesday night at the local plant were W. Roy Graves, Director of Employment and Personnel Services for IBM Military Products Division (left); Thomas F. Owin, of Phoenixia, 1958 president of the club; Ronald P. Gibbons, of Saugerties, 1959 club president, and Richard J. Whalen, General Manager of the Kingston plant.

235 IBMers Are Present to Honor Officers of Club

A total of 235 Kingston IBMers and their guests Wednesday night attended an installation dinner honoring six area residents as new officers and directors of the Kingston IBM Club.

The third annual installation dinner for newly-elected officers, directors and committeemen of the IBM Kingston employees recreational and social organization was held in the local plant's cafeteria.

Honored at the dinner were Ronald P. Gibbons, of Saugerties, 1959 club president; Jane E. Crosby, of Ulster Park, vice president, and directors Charles R. Reed, of Rosendale, Philip A. De Cicco, Rogers F. Murphy, and Joseph D. Amato, all of Kingston.

Congratulates Employees

Theodore F. Owin, of Phoenixia, 1958 president of the club, presided. Owin reviewed the activities of the past year and congratulated all employees for their cooperation in contributing more than $58,000 to local fund drives during 1958 from the plant's United Charitable Contributions Fund. He also praised employees for their help in donating to local charitable and civic organizations more than $18,000, derived from the proceeds of the plant beverage vending machines.

Past President Owin gave special thanks to outgoing officers who helped plan the club's vast social and recreational program. The 1958 program, he said, had produced 20 different activities ranging from league competition in most major sports to family picnics and informal dances. Participants in the club activities had reached a figure over 30,000 and bowlers in the club rolled more than 60,000 games in 1958, he reported.

Officials Attend

W. Roy Graves, director of employment and personnel services for IBM Military Products Division, and Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the Kingston plant, also participated in the program.

Dinner music at the Hammond organ was by Roger Baer, well-known local organist.

Six Navy Men Are Killed in Florida Crash

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—A Navy vehicle tore into a truck loaded with frozen orange juice Wednesday. Six young enlisted men were killed. Three others were injured.

The Navy said the nine men were members of a work party which was returning from Barin Field, near Foley, Ala., to their station at Whiting Field, near Pensacola. Barin, recently deactivated, and Whiting are auxiliaries of the Pensacola Naval Air Station.

The driver of the Navy vehicle was killed. He was Richard A. Saah, 20, son of Joseph George Saah, of Silver Spring, Md.
